(f)—Rules for the guidance of public vaccinators and others in all matters connected with the working of the Act.

A. Instructions for the guidance of public vaccinators under the provisions of Act V (B.C.) of 1880:—

Periods within which vaccination of unprotected children should be procured.

1. According to the provisions of this Act, the parent or guardian of every child born in any place in which the Act is in force shall, within one year after the birth of such child; and the parent or guardian of every unprotected child under the age of 14 years brought to reside, whether temporarily or permanently in any such place, within six months after such child's arrival at such place, or if the child be at the time of its arrival less than one year old, within one year and three months after its birth; and the parent or guardian of every unprotected child living in any such place at the date of this Act coming into force, and whose age at such date exceeds one year, but does not exceed fourteen years, shall, within six months from the said date, take it or cause it to be taken to a public vaccine station to be vaccinated, or shall within such time as aforesaid, cause it to be vaccinated by some public vaccinator.

Action to be taken by public vaccinators when they find unprotected children, who ought to have been vaccinated according to the provisions of the vaccination Act.

2. Whenever a public vaccinator finds that a child, who ought to have been vaccinated according to the above provisions, remains unprotected, he shall ask the parent or guardian of such child to have it forthwith vaccinated, and explain to him the liabilities he will incur if he declines to do so; and if the parent or guardian of such unprotected child does not comply with the vaccinator's requisition, the latter shall at once bring the matter to the notice of the Civil Surgeon or other principal Civil Medical Officer of the district in order that legal proceedings may be taken against the parent or guardian of such unprotected child.

Vaccinators must be very careful to supply Civil Surgeon, &c., with correct information.

3. Public vaccinators must be very careful to supply the Civil Surgeon or other principal Civil Medical Officer of the district with correct information, for if they fail to prove their statements before the court they will be liable to pay any damages which the Magistrate may order for the unnecessary trouble of the person whom they have caused to be prosecuted.

Action to be taken by vaccinators with reference to unprotected persons.

4. Whenever a public vaccinator finds that a person whose age exceeds 14 years is still unprotected, he shall ask such unprotected person to get himself forthwith vaccinated, and in the event of the latter declining to do so, the public vaccinator shall bring the circumstance to the notice of the Civil Surgeon or other principal Civil Medical Officer, in order that the said unprotected person may be served with a notice in form of Schedule (D) annexed to the Act, requiring him, within fifteen days after the service of the notice to submit himself to a public vaccinator to be vaccinated.

5. Vaccinators should endeavour to ascertain—

(a) whether children born in any place in which the Act is in force have had their births registered at the police-station of the section, and been served with notices. Information ought at once to be given to the Registrar in cases in which this duty has been neglected;

(b) whether any child under 14 years of age, not protected by vaccination, inoculation, or small-pox, has been brought to reside in any place in which the Act is in force. In such case also information ought to be given at the police-station in order that a notice may be served.

Public vaccine stations opened at different places to facilitate vaccination of all unprotected persons.

6. When, in order to facilitate the vaccination of unprotected persons, public vaccine stations have been opened in the different parts of any Municipality or other place in which the Act is in force, and the days and hours of the public vaccinators' attendance at these public vaccine stations have been fixed and published as required by section 14, the public vaccinators attached to each of the vaccine stations must attend at them on the specified days and within the specified hours, and vaccinate all unprotected persons free of all charges.

Vaccinators are bound to vaccinate all unprotected persons that resort to public vaccine stations free of all charges.

Vaccinators to enter name in the vaccine register.

7. The name, age, caste, &c., of all persons vaccinated at public vaccine stations shall be carefully entered in the vaccine register provided for the purpose.

Inspection of vaccinated children.

8. Vaccinators shall instruct the parent or guardian of every vaccinated child to bring it back to the station on the fourth or fifth day after the operation, that they may see whether all the points of vaccination have taken. If there be a failure of one or more points, they should be careful to repeat vaccination at those points, and enter the fact of their having done so in the remark column of the vaccine register. The vaccinators shall again direct the parent or guardian to bring the child once more on the seventh or eighth day that they may ascertain and enter in their register the final result of the operation.

Vaccinators to grant certificate of successful vaccination.

When unsuccessful, vaccination to be repeated.

9. If the operation proves successful, the vaccinators must deliver to the parent or guardian a certificate to that effect in the form of schedule (C). If it proves unsuccessful, the vaccinators must forthwith again vaccinate the child, and issue instructions for its inspection as before.

Vaccinators to grant certificate of insusceptible vaccination.

10. If a vaccinator finds that a child whom he has three times unsuccessfully vaccinated is insusceptible of successful vaccination, he should deliver to the parent or guardian of such child a certificate in the form of schedule (B).

Certificate of postponed vaccination to be given by vaccinators.

11. If a vaccinator shall be of opinion that a child is not in a fit state to be vaccinated, he shall forthwith deliver to the parent or guardian of such child a certificate in the form of schedule (A).

12. This certificate shall remain in force for three months, but shall be renewable for successive periods of three months until the vaccinator shall deem the child to be in a fit state for vaccination, when the child shall, with all reasonable despatch, be vaccinated, and a certificate of successful vaccination given in the form of schedule (C) if warranted by the result.

No fee to be charged for granting certificates.

13. A public vaccinator shall on no account charge any person for granting certificates of successful vaccination, of postponed vaccination, or of insusceptibility to vaccination, whether the same be granted at a public vaccine station or elsewhere.

Duplicates of certificates to be sent to the Registrar within 21 days.

14. Every public vaccinator who gives to any parent or guardian a certificate in any of the forms of schedules (A), (B), and (C), shall, within 21 days after giving the same, transmit a duplicate thereof to the Registrar of Births of the police section of the municipality where the birth of the child on whose account such certificate was given has been registered, or in which the child, if its birth has not been registered, resides.

Vaccination at private houses.

Fees to be charged.

15. When a public vaccinator attends at the request of the parent or guardian elsewhere than at a public vaccine station for the purpose of vaccinating a child, he shall charge a fee of four annas for every such vaccination. He is to inspect the child on the 4th and 7th or 8th day, and grant certificates as in cases of vaccination in the stations. No fee is to be charged for inspection and for granting certificates.

Receipts for fees to be given to the parent or guardian, and the amount collected should be deposited at the office of the Civil Surgeon, &c., every week.

Punishment for misappropriation of fees.

16. Public vaccinators are to grant printed receipts for amounts paid to them as fees. These amounts are to be deposited at the office of the Civil Surgeon or other principal Civil Medical Officer every Saturday, or oftener if that officer so orders. The vaccinators are warned not to misappropriate any portion of the fees to themselves, for if they do so they are liable not only to be dismissed from the department, but also to be criminally prosecuted.

...tion of lymph.

17. To ensure successful vaccination, the following cardinal points are to be remembered by every vaccinator—viz. good virus, a clean lancet, and the healthy constitution of the person to be vaccinated.

Vaccinators should use none but the best virus: they should remember that vaccination with bad virus is worse than no vaccination; for it not only does not protect the person from attack of small-pox, but brings discredit on both the vaccinator and vaccination The vaccinators should not only use good virus, but take it from those persons only who are free from constitutional diseases, especially syphillis. Lymph should never be taken from a child who has an eruption on his skin, lumps about the anus or genital organs, bad teeth, or a sore throat or cold. In fact, none but perfectly healthy children should be used as subjects for conveyance of lymph. A clean lancet should invariably be used; when a foul lancet is used, it produces an amount of irritation in the vesicles which renders success doubtful. In ordinary times persons in good health are only to be vaccinated, but in times of epidemic every unprotected person, whether in sound health or otherwise, should be vaccinated. There is no fear in vaccinating pregnant women.

Good virus should always be used.

Healthy persons are only to be vaccinated in ordinary times.
Exception in times of epidemic.

18. In cases of good and successful vaccination, the following phenomena are observed in the places where the virus is inserted:—No change takes place until the third day when the points of insertion of the virus appear like red spots or musquito bites. On the fourth day these spots look like little pimples. On the fifth and sixth days the pimples enlarge into vesicles and contain clear lymph. On the seventh day the vesicles are fully developed. On the eighth day areolæ form around the vesicles. There is sympathetic fever from this day. On the ninth day the contents of the vesicles become perfectly yellow, and the surrounding inflammation becomes more intense. After the tenth day a crust gradually forms, brownish-black in colour and of considerable thickness, and should fall off from the 18th to the 20th day, or two days earlier in the hot season. It should leave a well depressed cicatrix, with marked edges and floor lined and pitted.

The period at which the lymph is to be taken.

19. Lymph should be taken on the sixth and seventh days in the winter season, and on the fifth and sixth days in the hot and rainy seasons.

Manner of taking the lymph.

20. In taking lymph the vesicles are to be punctured from the top, and not from the side. If the vesicles be punctured at the side, the inner septa of the vesicles would prevent the flowing of the lymph into the seat of puncture. The upper surface should not be scraped off. It should only be punctured, and if the lancet be placed flatly an abundance of lymph will flow on it.

Manner of inserting the lymph.

The lymph thus taken on the point of the lancet is to be inserted in at least four different places, two on each arm, one above and the other below the insertion of the deltoid muscles, from an inch to an inch and a half apart from each other. The virus is to be inserted below the scurf or upper skin, but not deep enough to draw blood. Three such punctures are to be made in each place thus ',

21. The vaccinators must be kind and courteous towards the people that come to the public vaccine stations to have their children vaccinated. The people from their ignorance of the vaccine disease will ask many useless and tedious questions of the vaccinators, but the latter should not get annoyed at this. They should particularly explain everything which the parent or guardian of vaccinated children may want to know. While vaccinating at private houses they should be equally kind and courteous in their manners, and although the law does not prohibit their taking any reward or present from persons able and willing to pay, they should make no demands.

B. INSTRUCTIONS TO REGISTRARS.

1. The Bengal Vaccination Act, 1880 (Act V of 1880), requires of Registrars of Births the following duties connected with compulsory vaccination, in addition to those duties relating to the registration of births and deaths which the law imposes upon them:—

Section 18.

2. On the registration of the birth of a child, the Registrar shall deliver to the person giving information of such birth a printed notice in the form of schedule E appended to the Act.

3. The Act further requires the parents and guardians of children under 14 years of age not born, but brought to reside, whether temporarily or permanently, in any place in which the Act is in force, to have them vaccinated within six months of arrival, or, if at the time of arrival they are below one year of age, within 15 months of birth. On such cases coming to the knowledge of Registrars, a notice should be served in Schedule E altered according to circumstances. Such cases should be included in the register of vaccination, column 4 being left blank.

4. These notices will be issued to Registrars in the form of a book, each notice having a counterfoil which will, when filled in, constitute the minutes of the notices required by section 20 of the Act.

5. Vaccinators are directed by the Act, when a person or child is successfully vaccinated, to transmit to the Registrar a duplicate copy of the certificate (Schedule C), the original of which has been handed to the parent, or guardian, or person. Similarly, when the vaccinator considers it advisable to postpone vaccination on account of ill-health or unfitness from any other cause, a certificate to that effect (Schedule A) is given to the parent, or guardian, or person, and a duplicate thereof sent to the Registrar; and when a person or child is found insusceptible of vaccination, a certificate (Schedule B) is given, and a duplicate sent to the Registrar. These duplicate certificates (Schedules A, B, and C) of postponed, unsuccessful, and successful vaccination should be filed in separate bundles, and the information conveyed by them entered in the proper columns of the registers.

6. A register of vaccination shall be kept in the following form, of which columns 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 will be filled up on issue of the notice (Schedule E), and the remaining columns on receipt of the duplicate certificate mentioned in the last paragraph:— Section 21.

Register of Vaccination for

Serial No.	Name of child.	Date of birth.	No. of entry in register of birth.	Date of notice—Schedule E	Date of certificate of successful vaccination—Schedule C.	Date of certificate of insusceptibility—Schedule B.	Signature of Registrar.

7. An additional column will in future be added to the ordinary "Register of Births" in which an entry will be made referring to the number in the Vaccination Register. Thus these two registers—the "Register of Births" and the "Vaccination Register"—will contain references to each other, and no difficulty can be experienced in ascertaining whether a certificate has been received regarding the vaccination of any child whose birth has been registered.

8. When a certificate has been received of the postponement of vaccination (Schedule A), an entry should be made in the special "Register of postponed vaccination" (Schedule F) prescribed by the Act. Care should be taken that a child, regarding whom a certificate of this kind is received, is eventually vaccinated, and unless a renewed certificate of postponement has been received, an entry should be made of the name in the return mentioned in the next paragraph. Section 22.

9. As soon after the first of every month as possible a return will be forwarded to the Civil Surgeon or other principal Civil Medical Officer in the following form, showing the cases in which notice has been given or certificate of postponement has been received and the period mentioned in the notice or certificate of postponement has expired without receipt of a certificate of successful vaccination or insusceptibility (Schedule B or C). A case once returned in this form need not be entered again except in the instance of a fresh postponement:—

Return of cases in which notice of vaccination has been served but Certificate has not been received for the month of

Name of child.	Name of parent or guardian.	Residence.	Date of issue of notice.

10. It is obviously desirable, for the purpose of ensuring that every child born in any place in which the Act is in force shall be vaccinated, that every endeavour should be made to render the registration of births as perfect as possible. Every endeavour should therefore be made to ascertain and cause the registration of every birth occurring in any place in which the Act is in force.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill has been drawn on the lines of a draft prepared by a Commission which recently met in Calcutta to consider and amend Bengal Act VII of 1873 (the Labour Districts Emigration Act). The attention of Government had previously been directed by certain persons interested in the large and important tea industry in Assam to several points in which the law relating to inland emigration appeared to require amendment. As the subject seemed to be one which affected not only the tea interest, but to a certain extent the interest of the whole country, the Government of India decided, in communication with His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to refer it to the consideration of a Commission. This Commission, which consisted of members of the mercantile community of Calcutta and the tea interest in Assam, as well as of official members under each of those administrations especially conversant with the details of inland emigration, reviewed the whole question in all its details, and submitted a report, to which was annexed the draft Bill above referred to, which embodied the amendments of the law considered desirable. The Government of India resolved on legislating in accordance generally with the provisions of this draft, and accordingly the present Bill has been prepared. It differs considerably in form, but does not, it is believed, in substance differ materially (save in certain points which will be mentioned below) from the draft prepared by the Commission.

2. It does not seem necessary to specify in this place the numerous amendments of the existing law which the Bill, in common with the draft of the Commission, proposes to make. Many of these deal with minor and unimportant points, and all will be found enumerated in detail in the Report of the Commission. It will be sufficient here to state the main points in which the Commission found the present law defective and the changes which the Bill proposes with the view of removing these defects.

3. These points are four in number,—

(a) that the existing law does not afford sufficient encouragement to free emigration;

(b) that it imposes unnecessary restrictions upon sardári recruiting;

(c) that it fails to provide for the enforcement of contracts made otherwise than under its provisions even in the case of imported labourers;

(d) that it is defective in respect of the remedies provided for employers in the event of the unlawful absence, idleness or desertion of their contract labourers.

4. With regard to the first of these points, no labour-contracts can be entered into under the existing law (Bengal Act VII of 1873) after the emigrant has arrived in a labour-district; and further, under section 7 of the same Act, no contract to labour in a labour-district for more than one year is binding upon an emigrant unless it is made and executed according to the provisions of the Act. To remove these restrictions the Bill permits emigrants to make labour-contracts under its provisions after their arrival in a labour-district, and, by omitting any provision of the nature of section 7 of Bengal Act VII of 1873, leaves employers free to make with any persons, whether within or without the labour-districts, any labour-contract which the ordinary law will recognize and enforce.

5. As to the second point, under the present law, a garden-sardár in order to get his certificate countersigned is compelled to present himself at the Court of the Magistrate of the District in which he proposes to engage labourers; his certificate is only allowed to run for six months; he is not allowed to travel with another garden-sardár if the total number of their united bands of emigrants exceeds twenty; whilst if he recruits more than twenty emigrants himself, he must take them to a contractor's depôt. Such restrictions, besides unnecessarily impeding the garden-sardár in his operations, bring him into dangerous connection with contractors and recruiters who not unfrequently tempt him to make over to them for a consideration labourers recruited at his employer's expense. The Bill severs all connection between garden-sardárs and contractor's depôts; and, though providing, in the employer's interest, for the effective control of garden-sardárs when on recruiting duty, removes the restrictions above mentioned, and gives the widest scope to the working of the sardári system.

6. With respect to the third point, labour-contracts cannot be made under Bengal Act VII of 1873 in a labour-district. Consequently labour-contracts entered into in such districts must be made under the ordinary law. Though Act XIII of 1859 (to provide for the punishment of breaches of contract by Artificers, workmen and labourers in certain cases) has in some districts been applied to these locally made labour-contracts, its provisions were obviously never intended to meet such cases. As employers may incur serious loss in the event of their labourers refusing to fulfil their agreements, it is clear that they are insufficiently protected under the present law in respect of locally made labour-contracts. Nothing short of a penal labour-law is sufficient for their protection. At the same time it appears only just that, if a labourer is to be subjected to a penal labour-law, he should obtain also the protection of law in respect of his general relations with his employer. Under these circumstances it seems preferable, instead of providing that locally made contracts may be enforced under the Act, to remove the restrictions which at present exist against labour-contracts under the Act being made in labour-districts, and this the Bill accordingly does.

7. As to the fourth point, under the existing law the penalty prescribed for the unlawful absence of the labourer from his work can only be enforced by complaint before a Magistrate. Such a provision is obviously very inconvenient to employers, who cannot spare time to make a journey to Court every time one of their labourers is unlawfully absent from his work. The Bill therefore provides for a system of monthly lists of defaulters to be submitted by the employer to the Inspector, who will, on his next visit to the garden, enquire into the case of each defaulter mentioned in such list; and if satisfied that the labourer is guilty of the offence charged, punish him by entering such days of absence on his contract and adding them to the term thereof, unless the labourer consents to forfeit to his employer the sum of four annas for each such day of absence. Prolonged and repeated absence may, however, be still punished by a Magistrate, if the employer chooses to complain.

The Government of India have resolved to make no change in the provisions of the existing law as to desertion, and the proposals of the Commission with regard to these provisions have not therefore been adopted in the Bill.

8. It may also be noticed that the Bill (section 9) extends the term for which a labourer may contract to labour. Under the present law the term is limited to three years from the date of the arrival of the labourer on his employer's estate. It is now proposed to extend it to five years from the date of the execution of the contract. This extension will enable the employer to recoup himself for his preliminary outlay incurred in importing the labourer and maintaining him while he learns his work and becomes acclimatized. At the same time provision has been made in the interest of the labourer that, for the last two years of the term, he shall receive an increase of one rupee per mensem to his wages. At the end of three years he is presumably better acquainted with his work, more valuable to his employer, and therefore entitled to a higher rate of wages.

9. Certain other points in which the Bill differs from the draft prepared by the Commission may now be noticed. Under that draft, sections 21 and 63, labourers engaged in districts not under the administration of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal need not, when recruited by garden-sardárs, and cannot when recruited by recruiters, be registered until they are brought within a district of the Lower Provinces. The Government of India is of opinion that it is necessary, for the purpose of protecting the labourer and preventing fraudulent practices on the part of the garden-sardár or recruiter, that all labourers, in whose case the registration of the engagement before proceeding to the labour-districts is imperative, should be registered in the districts in which they are engaged. The provisions of the draft have accordingly been modified so as to carry out these views.

10. Again, the draft of the Commission permitted the transport to the labour-districts of labourers, whether engaged by garden-sardárs or recruiters, by any route. As it is known that on certain routes great mortality has occurred, it seems advisable that power should be taken to enable the Local Government to prescribe the routes by which only labourers may travel to the labour-districts. A power of this nature has therefore been inserted in the Bill (section 142).

11. Lastly, under the draft of the Commission it is not necessary that contracts of locally engaged labourers should always be registered before a Magistrate or other officer. The Government of India is, however, of opinion that, unless such registration is made compulsory in all cases, there is not sufficient security that the nature of the engagement shall be fully understood by the labourer. The provisions of the draft have therefore been so altered in the Bill (section 111) that it will be necessary to have all contracts of locally engaged labourers executed before and registered by an Inspector of labourers or a Magistrate.

In the case of certain offences the Commission proposed that a penalty of rigorous imprisonment should be inflicted. It is considered that the Magistrates should be allowed a discretion as to the infliction of rigorous or simple imprisonment, and the Bill therefore substitutes the expression "imprisonment," which means imprisonment either simple or rigorous, in the places where in the draft prepared by the Commission the expression "rigorous imprisonment" is used.

If the name of any person is fraudulently or without sufficient cause entered in, or omitted from, the register of members of any Company under this Act, or if default is made, or unnecessary delay takes place in entering on the register the fact of any person having ceased to be a member of the Company, the person or member aggrieved or any member of the Company, or the Company itself, may, by application to the principal Court of original civil jurisdiction in the district or place in which the registered office of the Company is situate, apply for an order of the Court that the register may be rectified; and the Court may either refuse such application, with or without costs to be paid by the applicant, or it may, if satisfied of the justice of the case, make an order for the rectification of the register, and may direct the Company to pay all the costs of such application, and any damages the party aggrieved may have sustained.

The Court may in any proceeding under this section decide on any question relating to the title of any person who is a party to such proceeding to have his name entered in, or omitted from, the register, whether such question arises between two or more members or alleged members, or between any members or alleged members and the Company, and whether there has or has not been default on the part of the Company; and generally the Court may, in any such proceeding, decide any question that it may be necessary or expedient to decide for the rectification of the register; provided that the Court may direct an issue to be tried in which any question of law may be raised and an appeal in the manner directed by the Code of Civil Procedure shall lie.

Shares.

(1) If several persons are registered as joint holders of any share, any one of such persons may give effectual receipts for any dividend payable in respect of such share.

(2) Every member shall, on payment of eight annas or such less sum as the Company in general meeting may prescribe, be entitled to a certificate under the common seal of the Company, specifying the share or shares held by him, and the amount paid up thereon.

(3) If such certificate is worn out or lost, it may be renewed, on payment of eight annas or such less sum as the Company in general meeting may prescribe.

Calls on Shares.

(4) The directors may from time to time make such calls upon the members in respect of all monies unpaid on their shares as they think fit, provided that twenty-one days' notice at least is given of each call; and each member shall be liable to pay the amount of calls so made to the persons and at the times and places appointed by the directors.

(5) A call shall be deemed to have been made at the time when the resolution of the directors authorizing such call was passed.

(6) If the call payable in respect of any share is not paid before or on the day appointed for payment thereof, the holder for the time being of such share shall be liable to pay interest for the same at the rate of five per cent. per annum from the day appointed for the payment thereof to the time of the actual payment.

(7) The directors may, if they think fit, receive from any member willing to advance the same all or any part of the monies due upon the shares held by him beyond the sums actually called for; and upon the monies so paid in advance, or so much thereof as from time to time exceeds the amount of the calls then made upon the shares in respect of which such advance has been made, the Company may pay interest at such rate as the member paying such sum in advance and the directors agree upon.

Transfers of Shares.

(8) The instrument of transfer of any share in the Company shall be executed both by the transferor and transferee, and the transferor shall be deemed to remain a holder of such share until the name of the transferee is entered in the register book in respect thereof.

(9) Shares in the Company shall be transferred in the folowing form:—

I, A B, of in consideration of the sum of rupees paid to me by C D of do hereby transfer to the said C D the share (or shares) numbered standing in my name in the books of the Company, to hold unto the said C D, his executors, administrators and assigns, subject to the several conditions on which I held the same at the time of the execution hereof; and I, the said C D, do hereby agree to take the said share (or shares) subject to the same conditions. As witness our hands, the day of

(10) The Company may decline to register any transfer of shares made by a member who is indebted to them.

(11) The transfer books shall be closed during the fourteen days immediately preceding the ordinary general meeting in each year.

Transmission of Shares.

(12) The executors or administrators of a deceased member shall be the only persons recognized by the Company as having any title to his share.

(13) Any person becoming entitled to a share in consequence of the death, bankruptcy or insolvency of any member, or in consequence of the marriage of any female member, may be registered as a member upon such evidence being produced as may from time to time be required by the Company.

(14) Any person who has become entitled to a share in consequence of the death, bankruptcy or insolvency of any member, or in consequence of the marriage of any female member, may, instead of being registered himself, elect to have some person to be named by him registered as a transferee of such share.

(15) The person so becoming entitled shall testify such election by executing to his nominee an instrument of transfer of such share.

(16) The instrument of transfer shall be presented to the Company, together with such evidence as the directors may require to prove the title of the transferee, and thereupon the Company shall register the transferee as a member.

Forfeiture of Shares.

(17) If any member fails to pay any call on the day appointed for payment thereof, the directors may, at any time thereafter, during such time as the call remains unpaid, serve a notice on him requiring him to pay such call, together with interest and any expenses that may have accrued by reason of such non-payment.

(18) The notice shall name a further day on or before which such call and all interest and expenses that have accrued by reason of such non-payment are to be paid. It shall also name the place where payment is to be made, the place so named being either the registered office of the Company or some other place at which calls of the Company are usually made payable. The notice shall also state that in the event of non-payment at or before the time and at the place appointed, the shares in respect of which such call was made will be liable to be forfeited.

(19) If the requisitions of any such notice as aforesaid are not complied with, any share in respect of which such notice has been given may at any time thereafter before payment of all calls, interest and expenses due in respect thereof has been made, be forfeited by a resolution of the directors to that effect.

(20) Any share so forfeited shall be deemed to be the property of the Company, and may be disposed of in such manner as the Company in general meeting thinks fit.

(21) Any member whose shares have been forfeited shall notwithstanding be liable to pay to the Company all calls owing upon such shares at the time of the forfeiture.

(22) A solemn declaration in writing, made before a magistrate, that the call in respect of a share was made and notice thereof given, and that default in payment of the call was made, and that the forfeiture of the share was made by a resolution of the directors to that effect, shall be sufficient evidence of the facts therein stated, as against all persons entitled to such share, and such declaration and the receipt of the Company for the price of such share shall constitute a good title to such share, and a certificate of proprietorship shall be delivered to a purchaser, and thereupon he shall be deemed the holder of such share discharged from all calls due prior to such purchase, and he shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase-money, nor shall his title to such share be affected by any irregularity in the proceedings in reference to such sale.

Conversion of Shares into Stock.

(23) The directors may, with the sanction of the Company previously given in general meeting convert any paid-up shares into stock.

(24) When any shares have been converted into stock, the several holders of such stock may thenceforth transfer their respective interests therein or any part of such interests, in the same manner and subject to the same regulations as and subject to which any shares in the capital of the Company may be transferred, or as near thereto as circumstances admit.

(25) The several holders of stock shall be entitled to participate in the dividends and profits of the Company according to the amount of their respective interests in such stock, and such interests shall, in proportion to the amount thereof, confer on the holders there of respectively, the same privileges and advantages for the purpose of voting at meetings of the Company and for other purposes, as would have been conferred by shares of equal amount in the capital of the Company; but so that none of such privileges or advantages, except the participation in the dividends and profits of the Company, shall be conferred by any such aliquot part of consolidated stock as would not, if existing in shares, have conferred such privileges or advantages.

Increase in Capital.

(26) The directors may, with the sanction of a special resolution of the Company previously given in the general meeting, increase its capital by the issue of new shares, such aggregate increase to be of such amount, and to be divided into shares of such respective amounts, as the Company in general meeting directs, or, if no direction is given, as the directors think expedient.

(27) Subject to any direction to the contrary that may be given by the meeting that sanctions the increase of capital, all new shares shall be offered to the members in proportion to the existing shares held by them, and such offer shall be made by notice specifying the number of shares to which the member is entitled and limiting a time within which the offer, if not accepted, will be deemed to be declined; and after the expiration of such time, or on the receipt of an intimation from the member to whom such notice is given that he declines to accept the shares offered, the directors may dispose of the same in such manner as they think most beneficial to the Company.

(28) Any capital raised by the creation of new shares shall be considered as part of the original capital, and shall be subject to the same provisions with reference to the payment of calls, and the forfeiture of shares on non-payment of calls, or otherwise, as if it had been part of the original capital.

General Meetings.

(29) The first general meeting shall be held at such time, not being more than six months after the registration of the Company, and at such place, as the directors may determine.

(30) Subsequent general meetings shall be held at such time and place as may be prescribed by the Company in general meeting; and if no other time or place is prescribed, a general meeting shall be held on the first Monday in February in every year, at such place as may be determined by the directors.

(31) The above-mentioned general meetings shall be called ordinary meetings; all other general meetings shall be called extraordinary.

(32) The directors may, whenever they think fit, and they shall upon a requisition made in writing by not less than one-fifth in number of the members of the Company, convene an extraordinary general meeting.

(33) Any requisition made by the members shall express the object of the meeting proposed to be called, and shall be left at the registered office of the Company.

(34) Upon the receipt of such requisition the directors shall forthwith proceed to convene an extraordinary general meeting. If they do not proceed to convene the same within twenty-one days from the date of the requisition, the requisitionists or any other members amounting to the required number, may themselves convene an extraordinary general meeting.

Proceedings at General Meeting.

(35) Seven days' notice at the least, specifying the place, the day and the hour of meeting, and in case of special business the general nature of such business, shall be given to the members in manner hereinafter mentioned, or in such other manner, if any, as may be prescribed by the Company in general meeting; but the non-receipt of such notice by any member shall not invalidate the proceedings at any general meeting.

(36) All business shall be deemed special that it transacted at an extraordinary meeting, and all that is transacted at an ordinary meeting, with the exception of sanctioning a dividend, and the consideration of the accounts, balance-sheets and the ordinary report of the directors.

(37) No business shall be transacted at any general meeting, except the declaration of a dividend, unless a quorum of members is present at the time when the meeting proceeds to business. Such quorum shall be ascertained as follows, that is to say, if the persons who have taken shares in the Company at the time of the meeting do not exceed ten in number, the quorum shall be five; if they exceed ten, there shall be added to the above quorum one for every five additional members up to fifty, and one for every ten additional members after fifty, with this limitation, that no quorum shall in any case exceed twenty.

(38) If within one hour from the time appointed for the meeting a quorum is not present, the meeting, if convened upon the requisition of members, shall be dissolved. In any other case it shall stand adjourned to the same day in the next week, at the same time and place; and if at such adjourned meeting a quorum is not present, it shall be adjourned sine die.

(39) The chairman (if any) of the board of directors shall preside as chairman at every general meeting of the Company.

(40) If there is no such chairman, or if at any meeting he is not present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the members present shall choose some one of their number to be chairman.

(41) The chairman may, with the consent of the meeting, adjourn any meeting from time to time and from place to place; but no business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place.

(42) At any general meeting, unless a poll is demanded by at least five members, a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has been carried, and an entry to that effect in the book of proceedings of the Company, shall be sufficient evidence of the fact, without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of or against such resolution.

(43) If a poll is demanded by five or more members, it shall be taken in such manner as the chairman directs, and the result of such poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the Company in general meeting. In the case of an equality of votes at any general meeting the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

Votes of Members.

(44) Every member shall have one vote for every share up to ten. He shall have an additional vote for every five shares beyond the first ten shares up to one hundred, and an additional vote for every ten shares beyond the first hundred shares.

(45) If any member is a lunatic or idiot, he may vote by his committee or other legal curator and if any member is a minor, he may vote by his guardian or any one of his guardians if more than one.

(46) If one or more persons are jointly entitled to a share or shares, the member whose name stands first in the register of members as one of the holders of such share or shares, and no other, shall be entitled to vote in respect of the same.

(47) No member shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting unless all calls due from him have been paid, and no member shall be entitled to vote in respect of any share that he has acquired by transfer, at any meeting held after the expiration of three months from the registration of the Company, unless he has been possessed of the share in respect of which he claims to vote for at least three months previously to the time of holding the meeting at which he proposes to vote.

(48) Votes may be given either personally or by proxy.

(49) The instrument appointing a proxy shall be in writing, under the hand of the appointor, or if such appointor is a corporation, under their common seal, and shall be attested by one or more witness or witnesses. No person shall be appointed a proxy who is not a member of the Company.

(50) The instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited at the registered office of the Company not less than seventy-two hours before the time for holding the meeting at which the person named in such instrument proposes to vote; but no instrument appointing a proxy shall be valid after the expiration of twelve months from the date of its execution.

(51) Any instrument appointing a proxy shall be in the following form:—

Company Limited.

I of being a member of the Company Limited, and entitled to vote or votes, hereby appoint of as my proxy, to vote for me and on my behalf at the (ordinary or extraordinary, as the case may be) general meeting of the Company to be held on the day of and at any adjournment thereof (or, at any meeting of the Company that may be held in the year). As witness my hand, this day of

Signed by the said in the presence of Directors.

(52) The number of the directors, and the names of the first directors, shall be determined by the subscribers of the memorandum of association.

(53) Until directors are appointed, the subscribers of the memorandum of association shall be deemed to be directors.

(54) The future remuneration of the directors and their remuneration for services performed previously to the first general meeting, shall be determined by the Company in general meeting.

Powers of Directors.

(55) The business of the Company shall be managed by the directors, who may pay all expenses incurred in getting up and registering the Company, and may exercise all such powers of the Company as are not by the foregoing Act, or by these articles, required to be exercised by the Company in general meeting subject nevertheless to any regulations of these articles, to the provisions of the foregoing Act, and to such regulations, being not inconsistent with the aforesaid regulations, or provisions as may be prescribed by the Company in general meeting; but no regulation made by the Company in general meeting shall invalidate any prior act of the directors which would have been valid if such regulation had not been made.

(56) The continuing directors may act notwithstanding any vacancy in their body.

Disqualification of Directors.

(57) The office of director shall be vacated—

If he holds any other office or place of profit under the Company;

If he becomes bankrupt or insolvent;

If he is concerned in or participates in the profits of any contract with the Company;

But the above rules shall be subject to the following exceptions: That no director shall vacate his office by reason of his being a member of any Company which has entered into contracts with or done any work for the Company of which he is director; nevertheless he shall not vote in respect of such contract or work; and if he does so vote his vote shall not be counted.

Rotation of Directors.

(58) At the first ordinary meeting after the registration of the Company, the whole of the directors shall retire from office; and at the first ordinary meeting in every subsequent year, one-third of the directors for the time being, or, if their number is not a multiple of three, then the number nearest to one-third, shall retire from office.

(59) The one-third or other nearest number to retire during the first and second years ensuing the first ordinary meeting of the Company shall, unless the directors agree among themselves, be determined by ballot. In every subsequent year, the one-third or other nearest number who have been longest in office shall retire.

(60) A retiring director shall be re-eligible.

(61) The Company at the general meeting at which any directors retire in manner aforesaid shall fill up the vacated offices by electing a like number of persons.

(62) If at any meeting at which an election of directors ought to take place the places of the vacating directors are not filled up, the meeting shall stand adjourned till the same day in the next week, at same time and place; and if at such adjourned meeting the places of the vacating directors are not filled up, the vacating directors or such of them as have not had their places filled up, shall continue in office until the ordinary meeting in the next year, and so on from time to time until their places are filled up.

(63) The Company may from time to time, in general meeting, increase or reduce the number of directors, and may also determine in what rotation such increased or reduced number is to go out of office.

(64) Any casual vacancy occurring in the board of directors may be filled up by the directors, but any person so chosen shall retain his office so long only as the vacating director would have retained the same if no vacancy had occurred.

(65) The Company in general meeting may, by a special resolution, remove any director before the expiration of his period of office, and may by an ordinary resolution appoint another person in his stead. The person so appointed shall hold office during such time only as the director in whose place he is appointed would have held the same if he had not been removed.

Proceedings of Directors.

(66) The directors may meet together for the despatch of business, adjourn and otherwise regulate their meetings as they think fit, and determine the quorum necessary for the transaction of business. Questions arising at any meeting shall be decided by a majority of votes. In case of an equality of votes, the chairman shall have a second or casting vote. A director may at any time summon a meeting of the directors.

(67) The directors may elect a chariman of their meetings, and determine the period for which he is to hold office; but if no such chairman is elected, or if at any meeting the chairman is not present at the time appointed for holding the same, the directors present shall choose some one of their number to be chairman of such meeting.

(68) The directors may delegate any of their powers to committees consisting of such member or members of their body as they think fit. Any committee so formed shall, in the exercise of the powers so delegated, conform to any regulations that may be imposed on it by the directors.

(69) A committee may elect a chairman of its meetings. If no such chairman is elected, or if he is not present at the time appointed for holding the same, the members present shall choose one of their number to be chairman of such meeting.

(70) A committee may meet and adjourn as it thinks proper. Questions arising at any meeting shall be determined by a majority of votes of the members present; and in case of an equality of votes the chairman shall have a second or casting vote.

(71) All acts done by any meeting of the directors, or of a committee of directors, or by any person acting as a director, shall, notwithstanding that it be afterwards discovered that there was some defect in the appointment of any such directors or persons acting as aforesaid, or that they or any of them were disqualified, be as valid as if every such person had been duly appointed and was qualified to be a director.

Dividends.

(72) The directors may, with the sanction of the Company in general meeting, declare a dividend to be paid to the members in proportion to their shares.

(73) No dividend shall be payable except out of the profits arising from the business of the Company.

(74) The directors may, before recommending any dividend, set aside out of the profits of the Company such sum as they think proper as a reserved fund to meet contingencies, or for equalizing dividends, or for repairing or maintaining the works connected with the business of the Company or any part thereof; and the directors may invest the sum so set part as a reserved fund upon such securities as they may select.

(75) The directors may deduct from the dividends payable to any member all such sums of money as may be due from him to the Company on account of calls or otherwise.

(76) Notice of any dividend that may have been declared shall be given to each member in manner hereinafter mentioned; and all dividends unclaimed for three years after having been declared may be forfeited by the directors for the benefit of the Company.

(77) No dividend shall bear interest as against the Company.

Accounts.

(78) The directors shall cause true accounts to be kept,

of the stock in trade of the Company;

of the sums of money received and expended by the Company, and the matters in respect of which such receipt and expenditure take place; and of the credits and liabilities of the Company.

The books of account shall be kept at the registered office of the Company, and subject to any reasonable restrictions as to the time and manner of inspecting the same that may be imposed by the Company in general meeting, shall be open to the inspection of the members during the hours of business.

(79) Once at the least in every year the directors shall lay before the Company in general meeting a statement of the income and expenditure for the past year, made up to a date not more than three months before such meeting.

(80) The statement so made shall show, arranged under the most convenient heads, the amount of gross income, distinguishing the several sources from which it has been derived, and the amount of gross expenditure, distinguishing the expense of the establishment, salaries and other like matters. Every item of expenditure fairly chargeable against the year's income shall be brought into account, so that a just balance of profit and loss may be laid before the meeting; and in cases where any item of expenditure which may in fairness be distributed over several years has been incurred in any one year, the whole amount of such item shall be stated, with the addition of the reasons why only a portion of such expenditure is charged against the income of the year.

(81) A balance-sheet shall be made out in every year and laid before the Company in general meeting, and such balance-sheet shall contain a summary of the property and liabilities of the Company arranged under the heads appearing in the form annexed to this table, or as near thereto as circumstances admit.

(82) A printed copy of such balance-sheet shall, seven days previously to such meeting, be served on every member in the manner in which notices are hereinafter directed to be served.

Audit.

(83) Once at the least in every year the accounts of the Company shall be examined, and the correctness of the balance-sheet ascertained by one or more auditor or auditors.

(84) The first auditors shall be appointed by the directors; subsequent auditors shall be appointed by the Company in general meeting.

(85) If one auditor only is appointed, all the provisions herein contained relating to auditors shall apply to him.

(86) The auditors may be members of the Company; but no person is eligible as an auditor who is interested otherwise than as a member in any transaction of the Company; and no director or other officer of the Company is eligible during his continuance in office.

(87) The election of auditors shall be made by the Company at their ordinary meeting in each year.

(88) The remuneration of the first auditors shall be fixed by the directors; that of subsequent auditors shall be fixed by the Company in general meeting.

(89) Any auditor shall be re-eligible on his quitting office.

(90) If any casual vacancy occurs in the office of any auditor appointed by the Company, the directors shall forthwith call an extraordinary general meeting for the purpose of supplying the same.

(91) If no election of auditors is made in manner aforesaid, the local Government may, on the application of not less than five members of the Company, appoint an auditor for the current year, and fix the remuneration to be paid to him by the Company for his services.

(92) Every auditor shall be supplied with a copy of the balance-sheet, and it shall be his duty the examine the same with the accounts and vouchers relating thereto.

(93) Every auditor shall have a list delivered to him of all books kept by the Company, and shall at all reasonable times have access to the books and accounts of the Company. He may, at the expense of the Company, employ accountants or other persons to assist him in investigating such accounts, and he may, in relation to such accounts, examine the directors or any other officer of the Company.

(94) The auditors shall make a report to the members upon the balance-sheet and accounts, and in every such report they shall state whether, in their opinion, the balance-sheet is a full and fair balance-sheet, containing the particulars required by these regulations, and properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Company's affairs; and in case they have called for explanations or information from the directors, whether such explanations or information have or has been given by the directors, and whether they or it have or has been satisfactory. Such report shall be read, together with the report of the directors, at the ordinary meeting.

Notices.

(95) A notice may be served by the Company upon any member either personally or by sending it through the post in a letter addressed to such member at his registered place of abode.

(96) All notices directed to be given to the members shall, with respect to any share to which persons are jointly entitled, be given to whichever of such persons is named first in the register of members; and notice so given shall be sufficient notice to all the holders of such share.

(97) Any notice, if served by post, shall be deemed to have been served at the time when the letter containing the same would be delivered in the ordinary course of the post; and in proving such service it shall be sufficient to prove that the letter containing the notice was properly addressed and put into the post office.

(17) At any general meeting, unless a poll is demanded by at least five members, a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has been carried, and an entry to that effect in the book of proceedings of the Company, shall be sufficient evidence of the fact, without proof of the

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THIS Bill is occasioned by the discovery of a defect in section 49 of the Indian Companies Act (No. X of 1866), which does not provide clearly that the annual balance-sheet to be filed with the Registrar shall be the one which has been laid before, and finally adopted and passed by, a general meeting of the Company concerned, or that it shall be filed within a prescribed time as provided by Act No. XIX of 1857.

On consideration, it was determined by the Government of India that this defect should be removed, and that the opportunity should be taken to make certain other amendments in the Indian Companies Act.

These amendments fall under two heads, first, the substantial additions suggested by the English legislation regarding Companies since the year 1866, and, secondly, the verbal alterations suggested by the reported decisions of the English and Indian Courts.

Since 1866, the English Companies Act, from which our Act No. X of 1866 is for the most part copied, has been amended by 30 & 31 Vic., c. 131, 33 & 34 Vic., c. 104, and 40 & 41 Vic., c. 26.

These Statutes provide—

(ii) that a Company may, by leave of the Court, reduce the aggregate amount of its nominal capital, or diminish the amount of the shares, but saving the rights of creditors who are ignorant of the proceedings;

(iii) that the capital of a Company limited by shares may be reduced by cancelling unissued shares;

(iv) that shares may be subdivided;

(v) that associations not engaged in mercantile pursuits may become incorporated under the Companies Act without annexing to their names the inappropriate term "limited";

(vi) that a Company may have some shares fully paid up and others not, and that dividends may be paid in proportion to the amount paid up on each share;

(vii) that a transfer of shares shall be registered at the request of the transferor, subject to the same conditions as if the request were made by the transferee;

(viii) that in the case of limited shares fully paid up share-warrants may be issued to bearer, and the shares will thereupon be transferred by delivery of the warrant, and that coupons may be annexed entitling the bearer to receive dividends;

(ix) that every prospectus of a Company and every notice inviting persons to subscribe for shares in a joint stock Company shall specify the dates of and parties to any contract which has been previously made by the Company or its promoters or directors, and may reasonably influence a person in determining him to take or not to take shares in the Company (Sullivan v. Metcalfe, 49 L.J.Q.B. 815);

(x) that a general meeting must be held within four months after registration;

(xi) that a contributory shall not be qualified to present a winding-up petition unless the members are reduced to less than seven, or unless he has held his shares for at least six of the previous eighteen months, or unless the shares have devolved on him through the death of a former holder. This will prevent the practice of speculators buying shares in failing Companies with a view to wind them up and share in the plunder;

(xii) that when the High Court has made an order for winding-up a Company, it may refer all subsequent proceedings to a district Court (to use the Indian term corresponding to the English "County Court") and transfer a winding-up from one district Court to another;

(xiii) that when a compromise is proposed between a Company that is being wound up and its creditors, the Court may order a meeting of such creditors; and that if a majority representing three-fourths in value agree to the compromise, it shall, when sanctioned by the Court, be binding.

The amendment made by 30 & 31 Vic., c. 131, section 37 (as to the manner in which contracts might be made on behalf of Companies), was anticipated by the Indian legislature in section 42 of Act No. X of 1866, and will be found in section 67 of the present Bill.

It seems to the Government of India that the thirteen amendments above specified should be made for two reasons, first, because they are good in themselves, and, secondly, because it is desirable that the laws relating to such a subject as mercantile Companies should be as nearly as possible the same in India as in England. Any differences in such laws lead to mistakes in the Indian Courts, and must, to some extent, discourage English investors from putting their money into Indian Companies. The provisions as to the unlimited liability of directors (sections 7, 62) have been stigmatised in England as certain to drive from the direction men of wealth and position and to substitute in their places needy adventurers. But it need hardly be said that the experience of fourteen years has belied this prophecy. It may be added that, under the provisions in question, a director will not be liable as such for more than a year after he has ceased to hold office, and that he will not be liable as such in respect of any debt of the Company contracted after he has ceased to be a director. The other provisions suggested by recent English legislation do not seem to require further notice. They will be found in sections 15 to 35 (both inclusive), 47, 49, 75, 76, 88, 132, 150, 203, 218, 219, 253, 254.

The reported decisions of the Indian Courts regarding the law applicable to trading Companies appear to be only thirty-two in number, and of these but few turn upon the wording of Act No. X of 1866. But there is a large number of English decisions bearing on the wording of the corresponding sections of the English Statute of 1862, and the Bill embodies the result of an examination of these decisions. Most of the verbal amendments of the present law are indicated by italics, and the cases which suggested them are noted in the margins of the Bill.

[Second publication.]

The following Bill, and Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it, are published for general information, by order of His Excellency the Governor General, under the 22nd of the Rules for the Conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Governor General:—

A Bill to declare the extent of the testamentary power of Hindús and Buddhists, and to regulate their Wills.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to declare the extent of the testamentary power of Hindús and Buddhists, and to provide rules for the execution, attestation, revocation, revival, interpretation and probate of their wills; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

I.—PRELIMINARY.

Short title. Local extent. Commencement.

1. This Act may be called "The Hindú Wills Act, 1882": it applies to the whole of British India; and it shall come into force on the first day of March, 1882.

Repeal of enactments.

2. On and from that day the Hindú Wills Act, 1870, and the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, section 154, shall be repealed. But all references to the former Act shall be read as if made to this Act.

II.—EXTENT OF TESTAMENTARY POWER.

When and how far Hindús and Buddhists may bequeathe property.

3. Every Hindú and Buddhist may bequeathe property in the cases and to the extent in and to which he may transfer the same:

Provided that when the testator is a member of an undivided family and his right to bequeathe conflicts, at the time of his death, with any right of the surviving members of such family, the latter right shall prevail.

III.—RULES REGULATING WILLS.

Portions of Act X of 1865 extended to wills of Hindús and Buddhists.

4. The following portions of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, namely,— sections 46, 48, 49, 50, 51, 55 and 57 to 77 (both inclusive),

sections 82, 83, 85 and 88 to 103 (both inclusive),

sections 106 to 177 (both inclusive), and

section 187,

shall, notwithstanding anything contained in section 331 of the same Act, apply—

(a) to all wills and codicils made by any Hindú or Buddhist on or after the first day of March, 1882, within British India; and

(b) to all such wills and codicils made outside British India, so far as relates to immoveable property situate in British India.

Provisos.

5. Nothing contained in section four shall—

(a) render any will or codicil revocable by the testator's marriage;

(b) authorise any testator to bequeathe property which he could not have transferred;

(c) deprive any persons of any right of maintenance of which, but for section four of this Act, the testator could not deprive them by will;

(d) affect any law of adoption or intestate succession; or

(e) authorise any Hindú or Buddhist to create in property any interest which he could not have created before the first day of March, 1882.

IV.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Power to exempt from operation of section 4.

6. With the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, any local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the local Gazette, either retrospectively from the said first day of March, 1882, or prospectively, exempt from the operation of the whole or any part of section four of this Act the members of any race, sect or tribe, throughout the whole or any specified portion of the territories administered by such local Government; and may, from time to time, revoke any such exemption, but not so that the revocation shall have any retrospective effect.

Saving of rights of Administrator General.

7. Nothing herein contained shall affect the rights, duties and privileges of the Administrators General of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, respectively.

Interpretation-clause.

8. In this Act the term "Hindús" shall include also Jainas, Síkhs and all other persons (not being Muhammadans or Buddhists) to whom the Indian Succession Act, 1865, does not apply.

And in this Act and in the said sections of the said Succession Act all words defined in the same Act shall, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context, be deemed to have the same meaning as that Act has attached to such words respectively.

And in applying sections 62, 63, 92, 96, 98 to 103 (both inclusive) of the said Succession Act to wills and codicils made under this Act, the words "son," "sons," "child" and "children" shall be deemed to include an adopted child; and the word "grand-children" shall be deemed to include the children, whether adopted or natural born, of a child whether adopted or natural born; and the expression "daughter-in-law" shall be deemed to include the wife of an adopted son.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Hindú Wills Act, 1870, has now been in force for eleven years in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, the Chief Commissionership of Assam and the towns of Madras and Bombay. It has worked satisfactorily in preventing forgery, fraud and perjury. There is also reason to believe that it has enhanced the value of property by making the title thereto more readily ascertainable and by facilitating its transfer. The primary object of the present Bill is to extend to the rest of British India such of the provisions of the Act as have not been repealed by the Probate and Administration Act, 1881.

The opportunity has been taken to declare, in accordance with recent decisions, that a Hindú's right to bequeathe is co-extensive with his power to alienate, except where in an undivided family the right to bequeathe conflicts with the law of survivorship. See 8 Mad. H. C. 6, 13; 3 Bomb. A. C. 6, 66; Mayne's Hindú Law and Usage, § 349.

In British Burma the Recorder of Rangoon and the Judicial Commissioner, sitting as Judges of the Special Court, have decided that a Buddhist has no power to make a will. But both Judges are strongly in favour of conferring the power by legislative enactment. The local Government remarks that "the Burmese of the larger towns are in the habit of making wills. They are very ready to adopt the practices of advanced civilisation where they recognise their advantages, and they are quick to discover the merits of any particular custom. In the course of the rapid progress which their country is making, they have easily perceived the benefits of a power of regulating the devolution of property by will, and a genuine want for this power has in consequence grown up." The Bill therefore expressly declares that every Buddhist may bequeathe property in the cases and to the extent in and to which he may transfer the same.

As there possibly are in some parts of the empire Hindús and Buddhists to whom it may be inexpedient to apply the rules for the execution, attestation, revocation, revival and interpretation of wills, power has been given to each local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, to exempt from all or any of those rules the members of any race, sect or tribe throughout the whole or any specified portion of the territories administered by such Government.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third publication.]

The following Bill, and Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it, are published for general information, by order of His Excellency the Governor General, under the 22nd of the Rules for the Conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Governor General:—

A Bill to declare the extent of the testamentary power of Hindús and Buddhists, and to regulate their Wills.

WHEREAS it is expedient to declare the extent of the testamentary power of Hindús and Buddhists, and to provide rules for the execution, attestation, revocation, revival, interpretation and probate of their wills; It is hereby enacted as follows:— Preamble.

I.—PRELIMINARY.

1. This Act may be called "The Hindú Wills Act, 1882": it applies to the whole of British India; and it shall come into force on the first day of March, 1882. Short title. Local extent. Commencement.

2. On and from that day the Hindú Wills Act, 1870, and the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, section 154, shall be repealed. But all references to the former Act shall be read as if made to this Act. Repeal of enactments.

II.—EXTENT OF TESTAMENTARY POWER.

3. Every Hindú and Buddhist may bequeathe property in the cases and to the extent in and to which he may transfer the same: When and how far Hindús and Buddhists may bequeathe property.

Provided that when the testator is a member of an undivided family and his right to bequeathe conflicts, at the time of his death, with any right of the surviving members of such family, the latter right shall prevail.

III.—RULES REGULATING WILLS.

4. The following portions of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, namely,— Portions of Act X of 1865 extended to wills of Hindús and Buddhists.

sections 46, 48, 49, 50, 51, 55 and 57 to 77 (both inclusive),

sections 82, 83, 85 and 88 to 103 (both inclusive),

sections 106 to 177 (both inclusive), and

section 187,

shall, notwithstanding anything contained in section 331 of the same Act, apply—

(a) to all wills and codicils made by any Hindú or Buddhist on or after the first day of March, 1882, within British India; and

(b) to all such wills and codicils made outside British India, so far as relates to immoveable property situate in British India.

5. Nothing contained in section four shall—. Provisos.

(a) render any will or codicil revocable by the testator's marriage;

(b) authorise any testator to bequeathe property which he could not have transferred;

(c) deprive any persons of any right of maintenance of which, but for section four of this Act, the testator could not deprive them by will;

(d) affect any law of adoption or intestate succession; or

(e) authorise any Hindú or Buddhist to create in property any interest which he could not have created before the first day of March, 1882.

IV.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Power to exempt from operation of section 4.

6. With the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, any local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the local Gazette, either retrospectively from the said first day of March, 1882, or prospectively, exempt from the operation of the whole or any part of section four of this Act the members of any race, sect or tribe, throughout the whole or any specified portion of the territories administered by such local Government; and may, from time to time, revoke any such exemption, but not so that the revocation shall have any retrospective effect.

Saving of rights of Administrator General.

7. Nothing herein contained shall affect the rights, duties and privileges of the Administrators General of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, respectively.

Interpretation-clause.

8. In this Act the term "Hindús" shall include also Jainas, Síkhs and all other persons (not being Muhammadans or Buddhists) to whom the Indian Succession Act, 1865, does not apply.

And in this Act and in the said sections of the said Succession Act all words defined in the same Act shall, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context, be deemed to have the same meaning as that Act has attached to such words respectively.

And in applying sections 62, 63, 92, 96, 98 to 103 (both inclusive) of the said Succession Act to wills and codicils made under this Act, the words "son," "sons," "child" and "children" shall be deemed to include an adopted child; and the word "grand-children" shall be deemed to include the children, whether adopted or natural born, of a child whether adopted or natural born; and the expression "daughter-in-law" shall be deemed to include the wife of an adopted son.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Hindú Wills Act, 1870, has now been in force for eleven years in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, the Chief Commissionership of Assam and the towns of Madras and Bombay. It has worked satisfactorily in preventing forgery, fraud and perjury. There is also reason to believe that it has enhanced the value of property by making the title thereto more readily ascertainable and by facilitating its transfer. The primary object of the present Bill is to extend to the rest of British India such of the provisions of the Act as have not been repealed by the Probate and Administration Act, 1881.

The opportunity has been taken to declare, in accordance with recent decisions, that a Hindú's right to bequeathe is co-extensive with his power to alienate, except where in an undivided family the right to bequeathe conflicts with the law of survivorship. See 8 Mad. H. C. 6, 13; 3 Bomb. A. C. 6, 66; Mayne's Hindú Law and Usage, § 319.

In British Burma the Recorder of Rangoon and the Judicial Commissioner, sitting as Judges of the Special Court, have decided that a Buddhist has no power to make a will. But both Judges are strongly in favour of conferring the power by legislative enactment. The local Government remarks that "the Burmese of the larger towns are in the habit of making wills. They are very ready to adopt the practices of advanced civilisation where they recognise their advantages, and they are quick to discover the merits of any particular custom. In the course of the rapid progress which their country is making, they have easily perceived the benefits of a power of regulating the devolution of property by will, and a genuine want for this power has in consequence grown up." The Bill therefore expressly declares that every Buddhist may bequeathe property in the cases and to the extent in and to which he may transfer the same.

As there possibly are in some parts of the empire Hindús and Buddhists to whom it may be inexpedient to apply the rules for the execution, attestation, revocation, revival and interpretation of wills, power has been given to each local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, to exempt from all or any of those rules the members of any race, sect or tribe throughout the whole or any specified portion of the territories administered by such Government.

II. Stoppage of produce for examination and for the payment of dues at revenue stations.—All timber or forest produce which is brought down by the rivers passing out of the Chittagong Hill Tracts shall be liable to stoppage for examination and for the payment of the amounts if any due to Government thereon at the revenue stations established on the following rivers, viz. :—

Feuny, Droong, Haldah, Kalapaneea, Surtah, Ishamati, Karnafuli, Sylock, Sungoo, Dolu, Hangar, Tankawati, Matamori, Badgong, Bagkhali, Rezu, or at such other places as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, prescribe.

III. Removal and passing of produce taken from the reserved forests.—Passes for the removal of timber or forest produce from the reserved forests in the Chittagong Hill Tracts may be obtained from—

(a) the officer in local charge of the forest, or

(b) the officer in charge of the Chittagong Forest Division, on payment of such royalty or on such other payment on account of the price of the materials as is prescribed by competent authority.

The holder of any such pass shall be entitled, on production thereof, to take his timber or forest produce free of further payment, and without stopping, past any revenue station specified in Rule II,

Provided that the officer in charge of any such revenue station may stop any such timber or forest produce, and subject the same to examination.

Any timber or forest produce found in excess of or of a different kind to that specified in the pass may be detained by the said officer until any sums that may be due in respect thereof be paid.

If it shall appear that such excess or different kind of timber or forest produce has been obtained fraudulently, the officer in charge shall seize the same and report the matter for the orders of the officer in charge of the Chittagong Forest Division.

IV. The amount of each despatch of timber or forest produce shall be entered on the back of such pass, and shall be checked by the officers in charge of the revenue stations at which such timber or forest produce may be stopped under Rule II, after which the same may be removed free of charge.

V. Stoppage of produce from forest tracts not being reserved forests.—All timber or forest produce exported from forest tracts not being reserved forests shall be stopped for examination at one of the revenue stations specified in Rule II, and for the levy thereon of the royalty or price fixed by competent authority.

VI. Obstruction of rivers prohibited, such obstructions to be removed by, or at the cost of, the parties in fault.—The closing up or obstructing of any river used for the transit of timber or forest produce, or the stoppage of navigation on the same, is prohibited. The Deputy Commissioner may order any person who, by his act or negligence, has caused such closure, obstruction, or stoppage to remove the same within a time specified, or may cause such obstruction to be cleared, and recover the cost of such clearance from the person by whose act or negligence it was caused.

VII. Registration of property marks, and fees to be paid for the same.—All persons engaged in the cutting and export of timber or forest produce shall annually register their property marks in the office of the Divisional Forest Officer. Such marks shall consist of a device to be approved by the Divisional Forest Officer, and the fee for registration shall be Re. 1 (one) for first registration, and four annas for each subsequent annual renewal. A certificate of registration, showing the device registered, shall be given to each person registering his mark, and a copy of the certificate shall be forwarded to the Deputy Commissioner. 2. The Governor-General in Council accordingly directs that in future the following articles, as also any others which on enquiry it may hereafter be found feasible to procure of local manufacture, shall be obtained of Indian manufacture if not dearer than imported goods:—

3. Chemicals and chemical preparations are largely made at the Cossipore Works belonging to Dr. Waldie, and perhaps in other places; and the cotton mills in India will, no doubt, undertake the supply of tape.

ORDERED that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the Home and Military Departments, and to all local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

Ordered also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 309.

The 17th October 1881.

THE following annual accounts and abstracts of the reports of the Road Cess Committees of the districts of Chittagong, Noakholly, Tipperah, and Chittagong Hill Tracts, of works done and in progress during the cess year 1879-80, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, are published for general information.

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Major, M S.C.,
Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Chittagong, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE cess collections exceeded the demand for the year, owing to the realization of a large portion of the heavy outstanding arrears.

Six meetings were held by the District Committee. There is no Branch Committee in the district; but one is much needed at the Cox's Bazar sub-division.

The small expenditure on original works is attributed to the estimates for bridging the Ramghur and Hill Tracts roads, and for earthwork on the 3rd section of the Ramghur road not having been sanctioned during the year. Thorough surface repairs and repairs to bridges have been done to all the district roads, and they are now reported to be in fair order compared with their usual condition. The Cox's Bazar sub-division is reported to be almost destitute of any means of communication.

Rupees 5,450 were expended on village communications out of an allotment of Rs. 6,450, and the greater portion of it was spent in thana Patya. Numerous applications are made for money, but it is difficult to get the villagers to undertake the works. Tea-planters looked after the roads near their own estates, and supplemented the grants from their private funds. Contributions, aggregating Rs. 107, were also received from the villagers of Joara and others. Rs. 500 were given to the sub-divisional officer of Cox's Bazar for improving the village communications in his sub-division; but as no money was sanctioned for any road, nothing could be done. It is proposed in future to devote the grant for village communications first to those parts of the district which have benefitted the least hitherto. Nothing was done in regard to arboriculture, as no money was sanctioned for this purpose. The whole district, however, is well wooded. During the current year trees have been planted as an experiment on two miles of a road; but it is reported that most of the roads are not wide enough to admit of any extensive planting.

The different establishments under the Committee did their work well.

A. MANSON,

Chairman, District Road Committee, Chittagong.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Noakholly, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE realization of arrears of road cess by attachment of estates has proved a failure, and measures are being taken by the Chairman to ensure the arrears being paid up in future.

With the exception of the Vice-Chairman, who was of great assistance to the Chairman, the members of the District Committee are reported to have been perfectly useless. The Fenny Branch Committee is also unfavourably spoken of.

The proposed Dhoom Chur bridge was not undertaken, as the Chairman was diffident to entrust such an important work in the hands of the present executive staff. Khals are being attended to, roads are made wherein practicable, and the people appreciate them The bridges and kutcha roads are not in as good a condition as they ought to be.

Arboriculture received but little attention. In regard to village roads, the Chairman is of opinion that no expenditure should be incurred on them unless they are made practicable for carts.

The principal fault of the works establishment under the Committee was extravagance, and the process-serving establishment is reported to have worked very badly.

EXPLANATION.

RECEIPTS.—(a) "Fees, Fines, and Forfeitures."—There will appear a difference of Rs. 162-9-8 when compared with the monthly return. This is owing to the sum of Rs. 85-9 on account of the salary of tehsildars not having been shown under the head according to previous practice, but in accordance with the instructions conveyed in Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal's No. 1960, dated 13th March 1880 These amounts have been shown under this head as receipts, and also in the debit side under the head of Provincial rates, establishment and contingencies of collection; and the balance, Rs. 77-0-8, has been transferred from the head of Miscellaneous to this head, as it falls apparently more under this head than others.

(b) "Miscellaneous"—The amount of Rs. 77-0-8 having been transferred from this head to that of Fees, fines, and forfeitures, there will appear a difference of the amount when compared with the monthly return, but the total receipts under these two heads will tally, plus the amount of Rs. 85-9 now added.

This will affect the total receipt of the year by Rs 85-9.

EXPENDITURE.—(c) "Refund of other receipts."—There is a difference of Rs. 4 with the monthly accounts This is owing to the amount having been shown in the monthly return for April 1880 under the head of Refund of other receipts. The amount being the wages of tehsildars appointed to realise arrear cesses and now shown under the head of "Establishment and contingencies of office of collection," hence the difference.

(d) The total expenditure under the following heads as per monthly return will tally with those of the annual returns as follows :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
As per monthly return, Provincial rates.
Establishment and contingencies of office of collection ...	5,992	8	6
Administration.
Establishment and contingencies of Committee's office ...	1,844	0	10
Stationery.
Stationery and printing	293	5	0
Total ...	8,129	14	4
Add to this the amount of tehsildars' pay not shown in the monthly account	96	0	9
Add to this the amount transferred from head Refunds to the head Establishment and contingencies of office of collection	4	0	0
Total ...	8,229	15	1
As per Annual Accounts, Provincial rates.
Establishment and contingencies of office of collection ...	6,008	4	4
Administration.
Establishment and contingencies of Committee's office ...	1,852	7	10
Stationery.
Stationery and printing	369	2	11
Total ...	8,229	15	1

The difference in each item of expenditure under the heads is owing to the transfer from one head to another, such as amount paid for cart hire, to bringing in the stationery boxes, and price of vinegar, &c, were charged as contingencies in the monthly accounts, whereas in the annual accounts they have been shown under the head of Stationery, and so on.

The total expenditure of the year as per monthly accounts will differ by Rs. 96-0-9 when compared with the annual return, as the amount has now been shown under the head of Establishment and contingencies of office of collection, whereas the amount was treated in the account as refund.

E. F. SANDYS,
Vice-Chairman, Road Cess Committee.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Tipperah, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE discontent at the introduction of the road cess has died away, and its objects are now thoroughly understood.

The attendance of members at the meetings of the District Committee, and of the Branch Committees at Chandpur, Muradnagore, and Choudogram was fair. The Branch Committee of Brahmanbariah held only two meetings, and the average attendance was 6 out of 18 members.

The estimate for bridging the Noyanpore-Arybary road was received too late to do much work in brick making; and the height of the floods prevented more turfing and dressing being done on the Kusba-Agurtollah road. One hundred and seventy-eight miles of the district roads were kept in repair.

Rupees 12,412 have been spent on village roads and khals from the road cess, and a further sum of Rs. 1,136 was expended from the local contributions made by the villagers. Numerous applications were made for this class of works, and the Committee intend to allot more money for them as soon as the larger projects are completed. A nursery garden was established at Comillah; trees were planted on two roads, and the young trees which had been previously planted on the other roads in the district were attended to.

Favourable mention has been made of all the establishments employed under the Committee.

H. M. WEATHERALL,
Vice-Chairman, District Road Cess Committee.

Abstract of a Report by the Deputy Commissioner of the Chittagong Hill Tracts, on the operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE Cess Act is not in operation in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. The works are executed by the Deputy Commissioner and his assistants under the general control of the Commissioner, and the opinion of the Executive Engineer of Chittagong is asked on all important and special cases.

The roads were in a bad condition, as the necessary repairs had not been executed for want of funds; but they have since been attended to, and it is asserted that they will be put into thorough good order within three months. The people of this district are nomadic in their habits, and they do not therefore care for village roads. Only a few village roads which pass through the principal villages are generally used by the hill men. Fruit-trees, mangoe and jack, have been planted on both sides of the Rangamuttee-Rowjaun road.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department.

UNDER section 179 of Act IX of 1880 (B.C.), I have the honour to submit the following annual report on the administration of the District Road Fund in the districts of the Chittagong Division for the cess year ending with 30th September 1880, and to enclose herein the district reports and accounts, together with a general abstract of the latter for the whole division.

2. The reports and accounts from the Hill Tracts of Chittagong were received in this office on the 18th November 1880, from the district of Noakholly on the 23rd December, from Tipperah on the 21st January 1881, and from the district of Chittagong on the 2nd instant.

3. An abstract of particulars regarding the meetings of the District Road and Branch Committees in the regulation districts of the Chittagong Division during the year under report also accompanies.

4. The provisions of the Road Cess Act have not been in force in the Hill Tracts of Chittagong. There is no Committee for the management of its Road Fund, the administration of which solely rests with the Deputy Commissioner.

5. The Committee in Chittagong consisted of 5 official and 12 non-official members, and the average attendance was 9·33. There is no Sub-committee in any part of the district. The supervision of the road work in the Cox's Bazar sub-division is carried out by the District Road Committee. In fact, till very lately, there has been but little work in that part of the district to supervise. Now, however, that money is to be expended in that direction, it would be well to form a Sub-committee. The attention of the Magistrate has been drawn to this.

6. The Committee in Noakholly consisted of 5 official and 11 non-official members, and the average attendance was 7 against 6 of the preceding year.

7. The Committee in Tipperah consisted of 7 official and 14 non-official members, and the average attendance was 9.

8. There is no Branch Committee in Chittagong; but the Chairman has proposed to submit proposals for forming Branch Committees after his present cold-weather tour.

9 There is only one Branch Committee in Noakholly, but in the district of Tipperah there are four Branch Committees, viz. Brahmanbariah, Chandpur, Moradnagar, and Chowdogram. The district and Branch Committees are said to have taken interest in their work, and their attendance on the whole was fair, with the exception of the Committee of Brahmanbariah.

10. The receipts of the division during the year under report on account of the District Road Fund amounted to Rs. 3,21,845-15-5. This, together with the unexpended balance (Rs. 1,45,462-4) of the preceding year, including the entries under the heads advances and deposits, gave an income of Rs. 4,83,729-3-1 available for expenditure during the year under report.

11. Out of the above income, only Rs. 2,28,663-3-5½ were actually spent, and the unexpended balance remaining at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 2,51,093-13-5½.

12. It will be seen from a reference to the enclosed statement that a comparatively larger amount was spent in Tipperah under the head "Original works" than in the other districts of the division; for instance, more than double the amount incurred under the same head in Chittagong. The reason for this may be that the old roads in Tipperah have been kept all along in good order, and the Committee can now expend money on new lines, whereas in Chittagong the old lines of communication had, from want of funds, in many places been allowed to fall into a state of utter disrepair, and these must be put in thorough repair before new works can be undertaken. The amount expended in Chittagong on account of repairs was heavy, for, as I have pointed out, the District Road Committee have had to confine their attention to the task of bringing the existing district and village roads into good order.

13. A sum of Rs. 5,450-1-6 have been spent on village roads in Chittagong. No mention has been made as regards village roads in any other districts of the division But I know that money has been expended, for I made enquiries on this point during my late tour. I have advocated grants for village roads being made over to the villagers themselves for expenditure. It is to their interest to see that the money is well expended, and they can make it go further than if the execution of the work is entrusted to the subordinate cess establishment. The Magistrates should make a point during their cold-weather tours of seeing how the previous season's grants have been expended by the villagers.

14. Some experimental measures have been taken in Chittagong for planting trees on road sides, and Rs. 314 have been sanctioned by the Committee on that account. As regards Tipperah, considerable progress has been made, and 500 fruit trees have been planted on the Companygunge and Arybary roads. The money has not, however, been always wisely expended, for in some places the trees have been planted on the edge instead of away from a rather narrow road, which must eventually be widened if it is to be fit for much cart traffic. When these trees grow up a little, the road will be almost blocked. I believe Mr. Anley's attention was drawn to this, and some order passed on the subject. In Noakholy no progress seems to have been made, though the Chairman does not appear to have forgotten the importance of the matter. In the Hill Tracts of Chittagong some fruit trees are said to have been planted on both sides of the road from Rangamati to Ranzan.

II. Stoppage of produce for examination and for the payment of dues at revenue stations.—All timber or forest produce which is brought down by the rivers passing out of the Chittagong Hill Tracts shall be liable to stoppage for examination and for the payment of the amounts if any due to Government thereon at the revenue stations established on the following rivers, viz. :—

III. Removal and passing of produce taken from the reserved forests.—Passes for the removal of timber or forest produce from the reserved forests in the Chittagong Hill Tracts may be obtained from—

(a) the officer in local charge of the forest, or

The holder of any such pass shall be entitled, on production thereof, to take his timber or forest produce free of further payment, and without stopping, past any revenue station specified in Rule II,

Provided that the officer in charge of any such revenue station may stop any such timber or forest produce, and subject the same to examination.

Any timber or forest produce found in excess of or of a different kind to that specified in the pass may be detained by the said officer until any sums that may be due in respect thereof be paid.

If it shall appear that such excess or different kind of timber or forest produce has been obtained fraudulently, the officer in charge shall seize the same and report the matter for the orders of the officer in charge of the Chittagong Forest Division.

IV. The amount of each despatch of timber or forest produce shall be entered on the back of such pass, and shall be checked by the officers in charge of the revenue stations at which such timber or forest produce may be stopped under Rule II, after which the same may be removed free of charge.

Such marks shall consist of a device to be approved by the Divisional Forest Officer, and the fee for registration shall be Re. 1 (one) for first registration, and four annas for each subsequent annual renewal. NOTICE.

SHIPPING OFFICE.

IN view of diminishing the number of desertions in the Port of Calcutta, the Masters and Agents of vessels are requested to observe the following procedure in cases in which they apply for a warrant, and the deserter avoids arrest before the date of the vessel's sailing. Application should be made to the Magistrate to record the depositions of the witnesses under Section 327 of the Criminal Code of Procedure in the absence of the accused. It often happens that, as soon as his vessel has left the port, the deserter appears at the Shipping Office for relief as a distressed seaman, or in search of employment, but escapes arrest, as there is no one to proceed with the prosecution. By observing the procedure above described, the Ship's Agent can prosecute, and the depositions recorded by the Magistrate in the absence of the accused can, under the section of the Criminal Code of Procedure above cited, be used as evidence on the trial of the accused, where it is not practicable to procure the attendance of the witnesses.

Simla, the 11th October 1881.

No. 55.—The following addition to Rule VI of the Rules for the examination of Junior Civil Servants in Oriental languages, published with the Notification of the Home Department, No. 1, dated the 2nd January 1880, has received the sanction of the Governor-General in Council:—

"Civil Servants may be permitted to attend the examinations after the expiration of the periods specified in this Rule, but no reward will be granted to them if they pass; and their leave must be limited to such time as may be necessary to enable them to attend the examination, and no extra expense must, under any circumstances, be caused to the State. In such cases it will be within the competence of local Governments to refuse applications for permission to attend any particular examination when compliance with such applications would involve inconvenience to the public service."

Letter from the Government of the Punjab, No 304S, dated 21st September 1881, forwarding an indent upon the Secretary of State for clothing materials required for the Punjab Police force

RESOLUTION.—In his despatch No. 418, dated 13th December 1877, the Secretary of State directed that materials for the clothing of the police should be procured locally. Subsequently, in April 1879, the Government of the Punjab represented that suitable materials for police clothing could not be so procured, and therefore requested permission to continue the practice of sending home indents for them. This was sanctioned in May 1879 The rules then in force regarding the supply of stores allowed the purchase of European articles either in the local market or direct from the manufacturers in England. Those rules have since been modified, and by Resolution No. 953, dated 10th June 1881, the Government of India declared its policy that, wherever practicable, articles of Indian manufacture shall be substituted for imported goods, and that in cases in which this is impracticable, European stores shall be obtained only through the Secretary of State, and through no other agency.

2. The Government of the Punjab has now submitted for transmission to England an indent for clothing materials required for the Provincial Police force. The Government of India has reason to believe, from the information now before it, that the Indian woollen mills will be able to supply all but the finest cloths demanded in the indent.

3. The Governor-General in Council accordingly requests that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab will cause careful enquiries to be instituted as to how far it may be possible to procure articles of Indian origin for the clothing of the Punjab Police. In this view the indents are returned for revision.

4. The Government of India expects the heads of departments to take special pains to carry out the policy declared in the Resolutions cited above, and hopes that the local Governments will insist that they shall do so. The local Government should pass no indent for stores upon the Secretary of State without satisfying themselves in each case that the articles entered in the indent cannot be procured of Indian manufacture at a price not higher than that of imported goods of the same class.

ORDERED that a copy of the foregoing Resolution, together with the original indent, be forwarded to the Government of the Punjab.

Ordered also that the Resolution be communicated to the Public Works and Military Departments, and to the other local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 329.

Dated the 25th October 1881.

THE following annual accounts and abstracts of the reports of the Road Cess Committees of the Hazaribagh, Lohardugga, Manbhoom, and Singbhoom districts of works done and in progress during the cess year 1879-80, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore, are published for general information.

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Major, M.S.C.,

Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Hazaribagh, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE road cess demand was Rs. 32,622, inclusive of the previous year's arrears amounting to Rs. 663, and the collections amounted to Rs. 32,066, the balance outstanding at close of the year being Rs. 543 only. The attendance at the meetings of the District Committee was satisfactory, and the non-official members took a fair interest in their work. A Branch Committee has now been established at Pachumba, but they did not transact any business, as the appointment of members was sanctioned late in the year.

Rupees 5,745 were spent on village roads from the allotment of Rs. 9,000. Tree-planting received due attention; 4,350 trees have been planted out from the nurseries on seven roads, and 7,700 trees, which had been planted on the roadsides in previous years have been maintained. The roads have been much improved, and the Committee have endeavoured to open out as much of the country as is practicable for wheeled traffic.

The large unexpended balance at close of the year is attributed to the failure of the contractors to complete the works, and the Chairman is inclined to think that the contractors were given more work than they could properly manage. Two of the proposed original works were not taken in hand, as the estimates for them were not ready.

The District Engineer and his establishment are favourably reported on.

DINONATH MUKHERJI,
Vice-Chairman.

Explanatory Memorandum attached to the District Road Fund Annual Accounts for 1879-80.

IN preparing the annual accounts the new classification of headings prescribed by Government (vide Proceedings No. 201, dated 26th February 1880) has been adopted; hence the figures entered in the column "Amount as per budget estimate" in Part II of the accounts differ in certain items from those in the budget for the year, and in the Government Resolution thereon, though the total estimated receipts in the two returns tally.

The charges against the heads "Stationery" and "Percentage cost of establishment for offices of account and control" were met from the allotment sanctioned for contingencies under the different heads of establishment. There being no columns provided in the old forms of accounts no amounts were separately sanctioned for these charges; hence the column "Budget estimate" against the two heads are blank.

DINONATH MUKHERJI,
Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Lohardugga, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE road cess is not by any means unpopular, as the people now understand that it is levied for the benefit of the district.

The attendance at the meetings of the District Committee was more satisfactory than in previous years, and nearly all the members who attended took great interest in the Committee's proceedings. Four meetings were held by the Palamow Branch Committee, and the average attendance was 6·25.

The progress of original works was retarded, owing to all earthwork being stopped by a mistake until the commencement of the rains. The operations in the Palamow subdivision were almost entirely confined to survey work, and to the preparation of estimates and projects for the principal roads. The work done on village roads consisted chiefly in embanking valleys and constructing temporary bridges, as well as realigning and demarcating the tracks. There are six important lines, however, connecting groups of villages with trade routes, which are gradually being put in order, and which will soon come under the head of district roads. Drainage is being specially looked after, and about 60 trees were planted on three roads aggregating 16½ miles in length. Generally speaking, more attention has been paid this year to securing substantial work rather than quantity, and care is taken that the bad portions of roads are attended to first. All the roads in the district are only in fair-weather condition, and none of them have been bridged throughout.

The several establishments under the committee have done their work satisfactorily.

Chairman.

Explanation of Annual Accounts for 1879-80.

ORIGINAL WORKS.—Rupees 10,387-14-0 was first provided for in the revised budget for 1879-80, but the committee, at a meeting on the 8th June 1880, finding it impossible to undertake the work during the year, owing to the estimates not being passed up to June, transferred the sum of Rs. 4,318-15-9 from original works to repairs, leaving a balance, Rs. 6,068-14-3, for collecting materials and planting trees, &c. Add to this a sum of Rs. 4,407-13-6, unexpended budget balance of 1878-79, paid during the year gives a total of Rs. 10,476-11-9 out of which Rs. 7,522-14-1 has been paid during the year 1879-80, the balance, Rs. 2,953-13-8, will be paid during 1880-81 in addition to the sum provided in the budget estimate of the year.

REPAIRS.—Rs. 20,350-9-2 was first provided in the revised budget for 1879-80, but a sum of Rs. 4,318-15-9 was transferred on the 8th June 1880 from original works to this as stated above. Add thereto a sum of Rs 2,867-2-9, unexpended budget balance of 1878-79, paid during 1879-80, gives a total of Rs 27,536-11-8, out of which Rs. 23,488-11-7 has been paid during the year 1879-80 the balance, Rs. 4,048, will be paid during 1880-81 in addition to the sum provided in the budget estimate of the year.

A. POWER,

Chairman.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Manbhoom, on the Committee's operation for the Cess Year 1879-80.

THE working of the Cess Act was satisfactory, but the cesses were not paid in punctually. The total cess demand was Rs 64,565, inclusive of the sums due from estates situated in other districts, but borne on the revenue-roll of this district, and Rs. 50,772 were realized, leaving a balance of Rs. 13,793 outstanding at the close of the year; but this arrear was entirely for the last instalment of the year which fell due on the 28th September 1879, being only two days before the close of the year under review.

The District Committee held a meeting regularly in each month, and only on one occasion a quorum was not present: the average attendance at each meeting was eight. There are no branch committees in this district.

There was only one original work undertaken during the year—viz. the completion of the Purulia and Chaibassa-road. This road has been put in good order throughout its entire length in this district; all the other district roads were repaired and maintained in proper order. Repairs and improvements were effected on about 60 miles of village roads, including repairs to famine tanks in the south of the district. Trees to the number of 1,040 were planted along the station roads, and the Commissioners intend to plant trees in the Chaibassa and Bankoora roads during the current cess year. The Rajah of Jherya contributed half the cost of four masonry culverts and the mile-stones on the Jherya road.

The different establishments under the Committee are said to have given satisfaction.

CHAIBASSA.
The

J. M. E. GOULDSBURY,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 441 DR, dated Chota Nagpore, the 7th March 1881.

From—J F. K. HEWITT, ESQ., Commissioner of the Chota Nagpore Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honor to submit herewith district reports on works of local improvement with the accounts received from the several district Road Committees of this division, for the year ending 30th September 1880, with the following remarks :—

2. The dates on which the several district reports and accounts were received are given below :—

Hazaribaugh	...	...	2nd January 1881.
Lohardugga	...	...	4th January 1881.
Manbhoom	...	...	10th February 1881.
Singbhoom	...	...	22nd January 1881.

3. With the exception of the district of Singhbhoom the Road Cess Act was in full force in all the districts of the division, during the year under review. In Singhbhoom alone a sum of Rs. 10,000 was assigned by Government under orders conveyed in letter No. 1372 of the 16th May 1879.

4. The cess was realized at maximum rates in Hazaribaugh and Manbhoom, and only at ¾ rates in Lohardugga.

5. The abstract below shows in a tabular form the extent to which the meetings of the Road Committees were attended in each district :—

DISTRICT.	NUMBER OF MEMBERS FORMING COMMITTEE.		Number required to form a quorum.	Number of meetings held.	Meetings at which there was no quorum.	Average attendance at meetings.	Number of members who did not attend any meeting.	NUMBER OF MEMBERS WHO ATTENDED—
								One Meeting		Two Meetings		Three Meetings
	Official.	Non-official.						Official.	Non-official.	Official.	Non-official.	Official.	Non-official.
Hazaribagh	7	16	8	5	..	10	1	4	1	6	3	3	2	43 10
Lohardugga	8	11	6	8	2	7	4	3	6	4	3	3	2	36 84
Palamow Branch ...	4	7	4	4	..	6 25	2	2	..	..	2	1	...	56 80
Manbhoom	6	13	6	12	1	8	2	1	1	...		1	1	42 1
Singbhoom	3	13	5	7	1	8	2	.	1	...	2	..	1	½ or 50

6. In Hazaribagh the attendance of members was satisfactory, a full quorum having been obtained at every meeting. The non-official members are reported to have taken a fairly satisfactory interest in its proceedings. A branch committee was for the first time established within the Panchumba sub-division of this district during the year under review; but as the appointment of its members was made at a very late period of the year, it did not transact any business.

7. In Lohardugga the attendance of members was more satisfactory than that of the preceding year, all the numbers who attended the meetings having taken very great interest in its proceedings. The Palamow branch committee consisted of 11 members; it held only four meetings in the year. The business transacted by it and the District Committee was of the usual character.

8. In Manbhoom a meeting was convened almost every month, and business appears to have been transacted on every occasion, except on one, when there was no quorum: the members are reported on the whole to have done very good work during the year.

9. In Singbhoom the number of meetings held shew a decided improvement over last year, and the non-official members of the Committee appear to have taken greater interest in its proceedings.

10. The percentages of collections on current and arrear demands of the three Road Cess districts in the division are given below :—

DISTRICT	DEMAND		COLLECTION		Total demand.	Total collection.	Percentage.
	Arrear.	Current	Arrear.	Current
Hazaribagh	663	31,958	663	31,463	32,621	32,066	98 29
Lohardugga	2,038	34,444	2,038	33,749	36,482	35,787	98 09
Manbhoom	7,803	25,060	7,803	20,679	32,863	28,482	86 66
Total	10,504	91,462	10,504	85,891	1,01,966	96,335	94 47

The percentages of collections in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga are highly satisfactory; that of Manbhoom is far below the mark. The total divisional collection is nearly up to the mark. The Deputy Commissioner of Manbhoom has not explained the cause of the short collections of his district, but has been called on to do so. The percentage of collections made in Manbhoom would be still less were the sums due to and collected for other districts taken into consideration.

11. The following table shews the percentage of total cost of all sorts of establishment including contingencies on the actual demands of the three Road Cess districts, during the year under report :—

DISTRICT.	ACTUAL DEMAND OF THE YEAR			Total demand for the year	Total cost of establishment including contingencies	Percentage of cost of establishment on demand
	Cess on land	Cess on mines	Miscellaneous
Hazaribagh	29,711	2,247	1,908	33,866	10,615	31 34
Lohardugga	34,470	9	2,118	36 597	8,175	22 66
Manbhoom	25,013	48	1,698	26,758	7,927	29 62

In Hazaribagh and Manbhoom the cost of establishment, has, it appears from the above, exceeded 25 per cent. of the actual demand of the year, these two districts should reduce their establishments unless their income is sufficiently increased under the re-valuations in progress in them, so as to bring down their cost of establishment within 25 per cent. of their actual income, or they must obtain special sanction of Government for the retention of their present establishments.

12. The following table gives the funds at the disposal of each Committee, including balance of previous years and suspense accounts and the percentage of costs of different establishment:—

DISTRICT.	Total income including balance.	Total cost of establishment.	Percentage.	Total revenue under Act X of 1871.	Cost of establishment and consingencies of office of collection.	Percentage.	Expenditure on works.	Cost of establishment on works.	Percentage.
	Rs.	Rs.		Rs.	Rs.		Rs.	Rs.
Hazaribagh ..	71,037	10,615	14 94	32,090	1,622	5 05	33 928	8,282	24 32
Lohardugga	58,190	8,295	14 26	35,787	2,100	5 86	31,248	6,045	19 14
Manbhoom	35,834	7,927	22 12	28,927	1,396	4 82	18,423	5,090	27·62
Singbhoom	19,778	15,551	7 84	....	.....	.....	7,954	1,350	16 97
Total ..	1,84,848	28,388	15·36	96,804	5,118	5·28	91,553	20,737	22 65

In Manbhoom alone the cost of establishment on work exceeds 25 per cent. of the actual expenditure on works.

13. In Hazaribagh out of the sum of Rs. 17,122 provided for in the budget, only Rs 7,015 was spent in original works, viz. 5,517 on earthworks in 23 out of 27 miles of Road No. 7, (Giridih to Kharakdiha road) and the residue on four new village roads. Provision was made in the budget to the extent of Rs. 4,000 for roads Nos. 6 and 22, viz. Paharpur to Bagadur and Ramgur to Jainuggar roads, but the amount was not spent for non-preparation of estimates in time.

Original works

In Lohardugga the total expenditure on original works during the year was Rs. 7,523: of this sum Rs. 4,408 was paid for works done in the preceding year, so that Rs. 3,115 was the sum actually spent on works done during the year out of a budget allottment of Rs. 10,387. But as the Committee transferred Rs. 4,319 to repairs from this amount, it appears that they have exceeded in their outlay under the head of original works, the amount available to them in their budget. The Committee appears to have done this under Government orders conveyed in No. 783A of the 11th August 1880. The works done under the head of original works during the year consisted only of planting of trees, collection of materials, the construction of seven masonry culverts, the construction of village roads on an outlay of Rs. 467, and the erection of a godown for stores in the Palamow sub-division at a cost of Rs. 68. Provision for the latter appears to have been wrongly made in the revised budget, under the head of repairs instead of under original works.

14. It appears that both in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga the Committees failed to lay out any larger sums in original works, owing to estimates not having been prepared sufficiently before hand. The Committees should always have estimates prepared of roads selected according to their importance, or sections of the same, and then provide for the works to be done in them in their budgets after getting the sanction of the professional authorities where necessary, and when the works in these are completed they should proceed to take up other roads, estimates for which have been previously made and approved of by the professional authorities. New works should always, when taken in hand, be prosecuted continuously, instead of by patches with large gaps intervening.

15. In Manbhoom the Committee appears to have spent a fair proportion of the amount (Rs. 8,515) provided for by them in their budget for the year (of this sum Rs. 8,015 were provided for culverts and other works on the Purulia to Chaibassa Road, and Rs. 500 for minor works. But the actual amount spent by the Committee on the Purulia to Chaibassa Road appears to be Rs. 4,940. The Manbhoom Committee appear to have diverted a sum of Rs. 2,281 for construction of culverts in the Purulia to Manbazar Road. The total estimated cost of this road, as sanctioned in Government letter No. 676C of the 2nd November 1877, was only Rs. 14,776. The actual expenditure on this road out of the sanctioned amount, up to the end of the previous year, was Rs. 14,607, so that the Committee had only Rs 159 in hand, which they could spend on this road. But they appear to have spent Rs 2,440 on this road during the year under report, without making any provision for the same in their budget estimate for the year, and moreover exceeded the amount sanctioned by Government by Rs. 2,281. They have been called on to explain how this occurred.

16. In Singbhoom the expenditure in this head is Rs. 3 481 out of an estimated amount of Rs. 3,692 provided in the budget, a result which is by no means unsatisfactory.

17. Repairs.—In Hazaribagh a sum of Rs. 26,824 was expended out of the estimated amount of Rs. 36,754 in reparing 17 district and 19 village roads, including station roads. The remainder was unexpended owing to the fact of too much work having been given to each contractor. I have frequently pointed out the impossibility of getting repairs properly done in this division, or anywhere else, if any petty repair is given over to contractors at head-quarters. Petty repairs should be entrusted to the inhabitants of the villages through which the road passes. The Deputy Commissioner of Hazaribagh seems to have acted to some extent on this suggestion; but much more should be done in this direction.

18. In Lohardugga the Committee provided Rs 20,350 for outlay under this head of expenditure. But subsequently finding their inability to spend the amount provided for Original Works, they transferred Rs. 4,319 from that head to repairs The Committee succeeded in spending only, Rs. 23,489, and their failure to spend the remainder is attributed to the fact that the transfer from the head of original works was made late in the year.

19. In Manbhoom the Committee appear to have devoted themselves principally to the maintenance of roads and repairing of bridges culverts and inspection bungalows the expenditure under this head amounting to Rs. 10,951 against Rs. 13,300 allotted in the budget. From the Appendix B submitted by the Committe with their final report, it appears that in some of the roads more work was actually done than what was actually paid for within the year. The work of this district under the head of Repairs appears to be very satisfactory.

20. In Singbhoom the expenditure under this head is 4,473 out of an allotment of Rs. 5,407. The work consisted chiefly of thoroughly and substantially repairing five roads extending over a length of 26 miles and surface repairs in these and one other road, extending over 174 miles. The above expenditure include the cost of metalling 2 miles of road No. 3 (Barakur to Chaibassa road), and the cost of replacing 9 wooden platform bridges by substantial masonry bridges, though this last item ought to have been shown under the head of Original Works.

Village Roads.

21. The expenditure on villages roads is shown below :—

DISTRICT.	Estimated amount for expenditure on village roads	Actual expenditure on village roads.	Total amount spent on all sorts of works	Percentage of actual expenditure on village roads on estimates.	Percentage of total amount spent in village roads on total expenditure on all sorts of works
Hazaribagh	9,000	5,754	33,928	63·93	16 97
Lohardugga	5,099	5,602	31,248	109 86	17 92
Manbhoom	4,000	3,937	18,142	98 42	21 37

22. In Singbhoom the Committee have in their memorandum No. 1327, dated 7th November 1879, stated that the assignment to their district is too small to allow them to make any provision for village roads, after making provisions for the important district roads

23. The Lohardugga Committee appear to have spent 9·86 per cent. over the estimated amount by diverting a portion of the unexpended amount in hand under the head of original works.

24. In Manbhoom nearly the whole amount budgeted for was expended. In Hazaribagh the expenditure has n arly come up to 64 per cent. of the estimated amount.

25. As compared with previous years, the Committees of the last three districts appear to have paid greater attention to the village roads.

26. In Hazaribagh 4,350 new trees are reported to have been planted during the year under review. In Lohardugga the Deputy Commissioner reports that trees have been planted on the both sides of 16½ miles of three roads. In Manbhoom 1,040 trees were planted along the station roads, most of them being shade giving—such as Bur, Peepul, and the like. In Singbhoom 718 fruit trees were planted on three lines of district roads. On the whole it appears that greater attention was paid to the planting of trees than was done in last year. But the Committee do not appear to have paid as much attention as would be desirable.

Planting trees.

Establishment.

The different establishments are on the whole reported to have done their work well during the year under report.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 5th October, 1881, and was referred to a Select Committee:—

No. 20 OF 1881.

A Bill to prohibit the landing of certain Stowaways, and to provide for the recovery of expenses incurred by Government in respect of such persons.

WHEREAS it is expedient to prohibit the landing in British India of stowaways of European extraction, and to provide for the recovery of expenses incurred by Government in respect of such persons who become vagrants within one year after so landing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

1. This Act may be called "The Stowaways Act, 1881"; and it shall come into force at once.

Short title. Commencement.

Interpretation-clause.

2. In this Act—

[1] Act I of 1859, s. 98.

"Stowaway" means any person of European extraction as defined in the European Vagrancy Act, 1874, who secretes himself and goes to sea in any ship without the consent of the owner, the consignee or the master of such ship, or of any other person entitled to give such consent, and who arrives on board such ship in a British Indian port;

"Stowaway:"

"Master" includes any person in charge of a decked vessel; and

"Master:"

"Shipping master" includes any other officer whom the local Government may from time to time appoint to exercise the powers of a shipping master under this Act.

"Shipping master."

Prohibition against causing or permitting stowaway to land without sanction.

3. No master shall cause or permit any stowaway finally to land from his ship in a British Indian port without the previous sanction in writing of the shipping master.

Cf. s. 4 of Act XIII of 1876.

Sanction not to be given unless owner or agent of ship enter into a bond.

4. Such sanction shall not be given unless and until the owner or agent of such ship has given to the shipping master a bond in such form, and with such number of sureties, as the local Government may from time to time prescribe, binding himself, in such sum as the shipping master thinks sufficient, to pay to the Secretary of State for India in Council, in the event of such stowaway becoming within one year after he so lands from such ship chargeable to the State as a vagrant under the European Vagrancy Act, 1874, the cost of his removal under the said Act and all other charges incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

Penalty for causing or permitting stowaway to land in contravention of section 3.

5. Any master who, in wilful disobedience of the prohibition contained in section three, causes or permits any stowaway finally to land from his ship, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Cf. para. 2 of sec. 4 of Act XIII of 1876.

Liability of owner or agent when stowaway lands without sanction.

6. Whenever any stowaway finally lands from a ship without the sanction required by section three and becomes chargeable to the State as a vagrant under the European Vagrancy Act, 1874, within one year after so landing, the person who is at the date of such landing the owner or agent of the ship from which such stowaway has so landed shall be liable to pay to the Government the cost of his removal under the said Act and all other charges incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

Cf. Act IX 1874, s. 31, third para.

Recovery of costs and charges.

7. All costs and charges which any owner or agent is liable to pay under this Act shall be recoverable by suit as if he had entered into an express agreement with the said Secretary of State in Council to repay them.

Cf. last para. s. 31, Act of 1874.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Stowaways of European extraction are found, on a rough average, on board twenty per cent. of the vessels arriving at the port of Calcutta. They are also, though less frequently, landed at Bombay, Aden and Rangoon. As the law stands, masters of ships in British Indian ports may land stowaways, and are in no way responsible for them after they have landed. If stowaways so landed are Europeans and become vagrants (as they occasionally do), they have to be dealt with under the European Vagrancy Act, 1874, and provided with subsistence-allowance while in charge of the police, with food while in a workhouse, and (where no suitable employment is obtained for them) with a passage to England, Australia or wherever their homes may be. As the necessity for relieving such persons really originates in the carelessness of masters of ships, who fail to detect their presence on board before leaving port, it seems unfair that the expenses so incurred should be borne by the Indian tax-payer.

The present Bill has therefore been prepared. It prohibits the landing of stowaways of European extraction, unless with the previous sanction of the Shipping Master or other officer appointed by the local Government, and unless the owner or agent of the ship on board of which the stowaway is found gives a bond to the effect that all expenses incurred in the event of the stowaway becoming a vagrant within one year shall be borne by the obligor. It also imposes a penalty on any master causing or permitting a stowaway to land, and provides that where any stowaway lands without such sanction and becomes a vagrant within one year of so landing, the owner or agent of the ship from which he has landed shall pay all the expenses incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

And the District Judge, subject only to the general control of the local Government, may, on appeal or otherwise, reverse or modify every such order.

Act VI of 1871, s. 38.

Recovery of fines.

37. Any fine imposed under this Chapter shall, if the order imposing it so directs, be recovered by deduction from the offender's salary.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 4 of the Bengal Civil Courts Act, 1871, declares that the number of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs to be appointed in each district shall be fixed, and may from time to time be altered, by the local Government. And section 6 of the same Act declares that, when the Governor General in Council has sanctioned an increase in the number of Munsifs, the High Court shall nominate such person as it thinks fit to be a Munsif, and the local Government shall appoint him accordingly. The number of Munsifs was accordingly fixed under section 4 in the Lower Provinces and Assam. Subsequently, in exercise of the power vested in local Governments by the terms of the provincial service arrangements in regard to the creation of additional appointments on salaries not exceeding Rs. 250 a month, the Government of Bengal and the Chief Commissioner of Assam, without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, appointed Munsifs in excess of the number so fixed. Doubts have been raised as to the validity of such appointments. It appears to the Government of India that the law does not authorize the local Government to appoint Munsifs, whether temporarily or permanently, in excess of the fixed number, unless an increase to that number has previously been sanctioned by the Governor General in Council. It is, however, in the opinion of the Government of India desirable to empower the local Government, without the sanction, but subject to the control, of the Governor General in Council, to increase the number of Munsifs, provided that the power is confined to those grades of Munsifs the pay of which does not exceed Rs. 250 a month.

2. The present Bill has accordingly been prepared. It enables the local Government without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council to increase the number of Munsifs of a grade the salary of which does not exceed Rs. 250 per month. The opportunity has been taken to validate the appointments already made by the Bengal Government and the Chief Commissioner of Assam: to make it clear that the local Government cannot increase the number of District Judges or Subordinate Judges without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council: to extend the District Judge's power of transferring appeals and proceedings to appeals from all orders made by Munsifs and to proceedings under the Probate and Administration Act, 1881: and to make such amendments in the wording of the law as the experience of the last ten years shows to be necessary or desirable.

NOTICE.

SHIPPING OFFICE.

IN view of diminishing the number of desertions in the Port of Calcutta, the Masters and Agents of vessels are requested to observe the following procedure in cases in which they apply for a warrant, and the deserter avoids arrest before the date of the vessel's sailing. Application should be made to the Magistrate to record the depositions of the witnesses under section 327 of the Criminal Code of Procedure in the absence of the accused. It often happens that, as soon as his vessel has left the port, the deserter appears at the Shipping Office for relief as a distressed seaman or in search of employment, but escapes arrest, as there is no one to proceed with the prosecution. By observing the procedure above described, the Ship's Agent can prosecute, and the depositions recorded by the Magistrate in the absence of the accused can, under the section of the Criminal Code of Procedure above cited, be used as evidence on the trial of the accused, where it is not practicable to procure the attendance of the witnesses.

Letter from the Chief Commissioner, Assam, No. 1165, dated 18th May 1881.

RESOLUTION.—It is reported that no stores were obtained from England for the public service in Assam during the last two years. A statement is, however, submitted, showing the European articles purchased in the local market by certain officers ; but it is not clear whether some of the articles (e. g. khaki cloth) mentioned in the return are not of Indian origin. From this return a list has been prepared, and is appended to this Resolution, showing the articles which the Governor-General in Council considers should be procured of Indian manufacture, if they can be obtained at a price not higher than that of imported goods.

2. His Excellency in Council accordingly requests that the Chief Commissioner of Assam will be good enough to cause enquiries to be made as to the cheapest and most convenient way of obtaining future regular supplies of such goods of Indian manufacture; as also of any other goods which in the course of the enquiry it may be found possible to substitute for imported articles. In order to ensure the existence of a large and constant demand for goods which the manufacturers would not otherwise undertake to make, the Government of India will be prepared to approve of contracts with Indian manufacturers for a term of, say, five years if necessary.

3. In the series of Resolutions on the subject of stores, recently published in the Gazette of India, the existing sources of supply of Indian-made goods have been indicated so far as they are as yet known to the Government of India.

4. Lanterns and swords should be procured of Indian manufacture. Lanterns are made in Calcutta by such firms as Jessop & Co. and also by native workers, and they can perhaps be locally made by natives. Swords of better quality than the swords ordinarily made for trade purposes in England are manufatured by native armourers in the Punjab and the North-We-tern Provinces, and the local authorities of those provinces will be able to indicate to the Chief Commissioner whence he can obtain to the best advantage the supplies he wants.

ORDERED that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the Chief Commissioner, Assam, and to the other local Governments and administrations, and that it be published in the Gazette of India

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 5th October, 1881, and was referred to a Select Committee:—

No. 20 OF 1881.

A Bill to prohibit the landing of certain Stowaways, and to provide for the recovery of expenses incurred by Government in respect of such persons.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to prohibit the landing in British India of stowaways of European extraction, and to provide for the recovery of expenses incurred by Government in respect of such persons who become vagrants within one year after so landing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. Commencement.

1. This Act may be called "The Stowaways Act, 1881"; and it shall come into force at once.

Cf Act I of 1869, s. 98.

Interpretation-clause.

2. In this Act—

"Stowaway:"

"Stowaway" means any person of European extraction as defined in the European Vagrancy Act, 1874, who secretes himself and goes to sea in any ship without the consent of the owner, the consignee or the master of such ship, or of any other person entitled to give such consent, and who arrives on board such ship in a British Indian port;

"Master:"

"Master" includes any person in charge of a decked vessel; and

"Shipping master:"

"Shipping master" includes any other officer whom the local Government may from time to time appoint to exercise the powers of a shipping master under this Act.

Prohibition against causing or permitting stowaway to land without sanction.

Cf. s. 4 of Act XIII of 1876.

3. No master shall cause or permit any stowaway finally to land from his ship in a British Indian port without the previous sanction in writing of the shipping master.

Sanction not to be given unless owner or agent of ship enter into a bond.

4. Such sanction shall not be given unless and until the owner or agent of such ship has given to the shipping master a bond in such form, and with such number of sureties, as the local Government may from time to time prescribe, binding himself, in such sum as the shipping master thinks sufficient, to pay to the Secretary of State for India in Council, in the event of such stowaway becoming within one year after he so lands from such ship chargeable to the State as a vagrant under the European Vagrancy Act, 1874, the cost of his removal under the said Act and all other charges incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

Penalty for causing or permitting stowaway to land in contravention of section 3.

Cf. para. of s. 4 of Act XIII of 1876.

Liability of owner or agent when stowaway lands without sanction.

Cf Act IX of 1874, s. 31, third para.

6. Whenever any stowaway finally lands from a ship without the sanction required by section three and becomes chargeable to the State as a vagrant under the European Vagrancy Act, 1874, within one year after so landing, the person who is at the date of such landing the owner or agent of the ship from which such stowaway has so landed shall be liable to pay to the Government the cost of his removal under the said Act and all other charges incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

Recovery of costs and charges

7. All costs and charges which any owner or agent is liable to pay under this Act shall be recoverable by suit as if he had entered into an express agreement with the said Secretary of State in Council to repay them.

Cf. last para, s 31, Act IX of 1874

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Stowaways of European extraction are found, on a rough average, on board twenty per cent. of the vessels arriving at the port of Calcutta. They are also, though less frequently, landed at Bombay, Aden and Rangoon. As the law stands, masters of ships in British Indian ports may land stowaways, and are in no way responsible for them after they have landed. If stowaways so landed are Europeans and become vagrants (as they occasionally do), they have to be dealt with under the European Vagrancy Act, 1874, and provided with subsistence-allowance while in charge of the police, with food while in a workhouse, and (where no suitable employment is obtained for them) with a passage to England, Australia or wherever their homes may be. As the necessity for relieving such persons really originates in the carelessness of masters of ships, who fail to detect their presence on board before leaving port, it seems unfair that the expenses so incurred should be borne by the Indian tax-payer.

The present Bill has therefore been prepared. It prohibits the landing of stowaways of European extraction, unless with the previous sanction of the Shipping Master or other officer appointed by the local Government, and unless the owner or agent of the ship on board of which the stowaway is found gives a bond to the effect that all expenses incurred in the event of the stowaway becoming a vagrant within one year shall be borne by the obligor. It also imposes a penalty on any master causing or permitting a stowaway to land, and provides that where any stowaway lands without such sanction and becomes a vagrant within one year of so landing, the owner or agent of the ship from which he has landed shall pay all the expenses incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

Whenever a District Judge suspends from office any such Munsif, he shall forthwith send to the High Court a full report of the circumstances of the suspension, together with the evidence, if any; and the High Court shall make such order thereon as it thinks fit.

CHAPTER VI.

MINISTERIAL OFFICERS.

Act VI of 1871, s. 35

Appointment and removal of ministerial officers of District Courts.

34. The District Judges shall appoint the ministerial officers of their Courts, and, subject only to the general control of the local Government, the said Judges may remove or suspend such officers or fine them in an amount not exceeding one month's salary.

Act VI of 1871, s. 36.

Appointment and removal of ministerial officers of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs.

35. The ministerial officers of the Courts of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs shall be nominated and appointed by those Courts respectively, subject to the approval of the District Judge within whose jurisdiction such Courts are situate.

Power to punish such officers.

Every such Court may, by order, remove or suspend from office, or fine in an amount not exceeding one month's salary, any of its ministerial officers who is guilty of any misconduct or neglect in the performance of the duties of his office. And the District Judge, subject only to the general control of the local Government, may, on appeal or otherwise, reverse or modify every such order.

The District Judge, within whose jurisdiction such Court is situate, may, by order, suspend or remove any such ministerial officer. Act XIX 1877, s. 1.

Nothing in this section or in section thirty-four shall exempt any officer from any penal or other consequences to which he may be liable under any other law in force for the time being.

Act VI of 1871, s. 37.

Transfer of ministerial officers.

36. The local Government may, at the instance of the District Judge, transfer from any Court in the territories administered by such Government, to any other Court in the same territories, all or any of the ministerial officers of such Judge or of any Subordinate Judge or Munsif under his control.

The District Judge may transfer all or any of the ministerial officers of any Court under his control to any other such Court.

Act VI of 1871, s. 38.

Recovery of fines.

37. Any fine imposed under this Chapter shall, if the order imposing it so directs, be recovered by deduction from the offender's salary.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 1 of the Bengal Civil Courts Act, 1871, declares that the number of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs to be appointed in each district shall be fixed, and may from time to time be altered, by the local Government. And section 6 of the same Act declares that, when the Governor General in Council has sanctioned an increase in the number of Munsifs, the High Court shall nominate such person as it thinks fit to be a Munsif, and the local Government shall appoint him accordingly. The number of Munsifs was accordingly fixed under section 1 in the Lower Provinces and Assam. Subsequently, in exercise of the power vested in local Governments by the terms of the provincial service arrangements in regard to the creation of additional appointments on salaries not exceeding Rs. 250 a month, the Government of Bengal and the Chief Commissioner of Assam, without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, appointed Munsifs in excess of the number so fixed. Doubts have been raised as to the validity of such appointments. It appears to the Government of India that the law does not authorize the local Government to appoint Munsifs, whether temporarily or permanently, in excess of the fixed number, unless an increase to that number has previously been sanctioned by the Governor General in Council. It is, however, in the opinion of the Government of India desirable to empower the local Government, without the sanction, but subject to the control, of the Governor General in Council, to increase the number of Munsifs, provided that the power is confined to those grades of Munsifs the pay of which does not exceed Rs. 250 a month.

2. The present Bill has accordingly been prepared. It enables the local Government without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council to increase the number of Munsifs of a grade the salary of which does not exceed Rs. 250 per month. The opportunity has been taken to validate the appointments already made by the Bengal Government and the Chief Commissioner of Assam: to make it clear that the local Government cannot increase the number of District Judges or Subordinate Judges without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council: to extend the District Judge's power of transferring appeals and proceedings to appeals from all orders made by Munsifs and to proceedings under the Probate and Administration Act, 1881: and to make such amendments in the wording of the law as the experience of the last ten years shows to be necessary or desirable.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First publication.]

The following Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it are published for general information, by order of His Excellency the Governor General, under the 22nd of the Rules for the conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Governor General:—

No. 22 OF 1881.

A Bill to amend the law relating to Powers-of-Attorney.

FOR the purpose of amending the law relating to Powers-of-Attorney; it is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. Local extent. Commencement.

1. This Act may be called "The Powers-of-Attorney Act, 1881": it applies to the whole of British India; and it shall come into force on the first day of January, 1882.

44 & 45 Vic., c. 41, s. 46.

Execution under power-of-attorney

2. The donee of a power-of-attorney may, if he thinks fit, execute or do any assurance, instrument or thing in and with his own name and signature and his own seal, where sealing is required, by the authority of the donor of the power; and every assurance, instrument and thing so executed and done shall be as effectual in law as if it had been executed or done by the donee of the power in the name and with the signature and seal of the donor thereof.

This section applies to powers-of-attorney created by instruments executed either before or after this Act comes into force.

44 & 45 Vic., c. 41, s. 47.

Payment by attorney under power without notice of death, &c., good.

3. Any person making or doing any payment or act, in good faith, in pursuance of a power-of-attorney shall not be liable in respect of the payment or act by reason that before the payment or act the donor of the power had died or become lunatic, of unsound mind, or bankrupt, or insolvent, or had revoked the power, if the fact of death, lunacy, unsoundness of mind, bankruptcy, insolvency or revocation was not at the time of the payment or act known to the person making or doing the same.

But this section shall not affect any right against the payee of any person interested in any money so paid; and that person shall have the like remedy against the payee as he would have had against the payer if the payment had not been made by him.

This section applies only to payments and acts made or done after this Act comes into force.

44 & 45 Vic., c. 41, s. 48.

Deposit of original instruments creating powers-of-attorney.

4. (a) An instrument creating a power-of-attorney, its execution being verified by affidavit, statutory declaration or other sufficient evidence, may, with the affidavit or declaration, if any, be deposited in the High Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the instrument may be.

(b) A separate file of instruments so deposited shall be kept; and any person may search that file, and inspect every instrument so deposited; and a certified copy thereof shall be delivered out to him on request.

(c) A copy of an instrument so deposited may be presented at the office and may be stamped or marked as a certified copy, and when so stamped or marked shall become and be a certified copy.

(d) A certified copy of an instrument so deposited shall without further proof be sufficient evidence of the contents of the instrument and of the deposit thereof in the High Court.

(e) The High Court may from time to time make rules for the purposes of this section, and prescribing, with the concurrence of the Local Government, the fees to be taken under clauses (a), (b) and (c).

(f) Throughout British Burma, the Court of the Recorder of Rangoon shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be the High Court.

(g) This section applies to instruments creating powers-of-attorney executed either before or after this Act comes into force.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

As the law stands, the donee of a power-of-attorney, when executing an instrument pursuant to the power, must sign, and where sealing is required must seal, in his principal's name. The first object of this Bill is to render it legal for such donees to execute in and with their own names and seals. The law respecting the execution of instruments under powers-of-attorney will thus be made accordant with what will be the rule in England from and after the 31st December, 1881, and with what is believed to be the practice in the North-Western Provinces, British Burma and, probably, elsewhere in India. The section effecting this is copied from section 46 of the recent Statute 44 & 45 Vic., c. 41, which takes effect from the close of the present year.

The second object of the Bill is to preclude doubts as to the liability of a donee of a power-of-attorney who makes payments in good faith after the donor of the power has died or become lunatic or bankrupt or insolvent, or has revoked the power, when the fact of death, lunacy, bankruptcy, insolvency or revocation was not known to the donee at the time of making the payment. The section effecting this is copied from section 47 of the Statute above mentioned, and merely extends to all attorneys the rule as to trustees, executors and administrators making payments under powers, which has been in force in British India for the last fifteen years—see Act XXVIII of 1866, section 39.

The third and last object of the Bill is to provide for the deposit of instruments creating powers-of-attorney, and for the evidence of the contents of such instruments. The section effecting this is copied (with the modifications necessary to adapt it to India) from 44 & 45 Vic., c. 41, section 48.

NOTICE.

SHIPPING OFFICE.

IN view of diminishing the number of desertions in the Port of Calcutta, the Masters and Agents of vessels are requested to observe the following procedure in cases in which they apply for a warrant, and the deserter avoids arrest before the date of the vessel's sailing. Application should be made to the Magistrate to record the depositions of the witnesses under section 327 of the Criminal Code of Procedure in the absence of the accused. It often happens that, as soon as his vessel has left the port, the deserter appears at the Shipping Office for relief as a distressed seaman or in search of employment, but escapes arrest, as there is no one to proceed with the prosecution. By observing the procedure above described, the Ship's Agent can prosecute, and the depositions recorded by the Magistrate in the absence of the accused can, under the section of the Criminal Code of Procedure above cited, be used as evidence on the trial of the accused, where it is not practicable to procure the attendance of the witnesses.

RESOLUTION.—From the returns received from the Chief Commissioner a list has been prepared, and is appended to this Resolution, showing the articles which, on the information now before the Government of India, it is possible to procure of Indian manufacture. The Governor-General in Council accordingly requests that the Chief Commissioner will be good enough to institute enquiries as to the cheapest and most convenient way of obtaining future regular supplies of such goods of Indian manufacture, as well as of any other goods which in the course of enquiry it may be found feasible to substitute for imported articles.

2. In the series of Resolutions on the subject of the supply of stores published in the Gazette of India since the 23rd July last, instructions have already been given as to the different sources of supply, so far as they are as yet known, of the articles mentioned in the list, and they need not be repeated here. The Governor-General in Council directs that wherever possible, with due regard to economy, such articles of Indian manufacture shall in future be substituted for European articles in the Province of Coorg, as everywhere else in India.

ORDERED that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the Chief Commissioner of Coorg and to the other local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

Ordered also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 352.

The 8th November 1881.

THE following annual accounts and abstracts of the reports of the Road Cess Committees of the Dacca, Furreedpore, Backergunge, and Mymensingh districts, of works done and in progress during the cess year 1879-80, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Dacca Division, are published for general information.

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Major, M.S.C.,
Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Dacca, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE Cess Act has been worked without difficulty.

The District and Branch Committees took an interest in their work, and worked well.

The roads appear to be in fair order. Expenditure was incurred on a number of village roads in the Moonsheegunge and Manickgunge sub-divisions, but very few works of this class were carried out in the sudder sub-division. Various fruit-bearing plants, to the number of 2,086, were planted out on three roads, and steps were taken for the protection and maintenance of the trees on another road.

The working of the different establishments under the Committee is said to have been satisfactory.

Abstract of a report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Furreedpore, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE objects of the road cess are said to be appreciated by the people.

The attendance of the members of the District Committee was very unsatisfactory; those members who did attend, however, took an interest in their work.

On the whole there has been an improvement in the roads, which are in good order. The greater portion of the grant for village roads was expended in the Goalundo and Madaripore sub-divisions, and only a small part was spent in the sudder sub-division; the existing village roads are reported to be in good condition. Trees were planted on some of the roads, but the matter did not receive sufficient attention, and the Committee have promised to give it increased attention in future. There is a demand for tanks, and steam communication between Backergunge and Goalundo; and another great want of the district is a main road to Madaripore.

The Chairman remarks that delay has occurred "from estimates being returned as not up to the Department, Public Works, standard," and his view of the matter is expressed in paragraph 10 of the Commissioner's remarks.

The different establishments under the Committee discharged their duties efficiently.

Explanatory Memorandum.

(A) The difference between this and the figures shown in the progressive column of the monthly account for September last is owing to Rs. 72-14-0, incurred on account of purchase of forms and country stationery, shown under the head "Establishment and contingencies of office of collection," being shown in the proper head "Stationery and Printing" in the annual account.

(B) The expenditure of Rs. 72-14-0, price of forms and country stationery, shown in the monthly accounts under head "Establishment and contingencies of office of collection," has been shown under this head, and Rs. 110-5-6 incurred on account of price of English stationery of the Committee's and the District Engineer's offices, shown in the monthly accounts under head "Public Works establishment." This explains the difference between this and the total of the progressive column under this head in the monthly account for September 1880.

(C) Rs. 190 actually spent on repairs were erroneously shown by the Branch Committee of Madaripore in the monthly accounts under head "Original work," and Rs. 36 actually spent on original works were erroneously shown by the Goalundo Branch Committee under head "Repairs" in the monthly accounts. This accounts for the difference of Rs. 154 between this and the figures shown in the progressive column of the monthly account for September.

(D) See above.

(E) The sum of Rs. 110-5-6 incurred on account of purchase of English stationery was shown under this head, but it has been shown in the annual account under the proper head "Stationery and Printing."

Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Backergunge, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

ALTHOUGH the progress of works generally was much interfered with by the early setting in of the rains, the outturn is reported to be fairly satisfactory, and on the whole the works were fairly well done.

The grant for village roads in the sudder sub-division was Rs. 15,000, for Patuakhali Rs. 5,000, for Bhola Rs. 5,500, and for Perozepore Rs. 6,000; and the total expenditure was Rs. 20,101. In Bhola and Perozepore nearly the whole of the allotments were expended to very good advantage, and with the exception of one road all the works in Perozepore were done by the villagers themselves. Only Rs. 2,642 were spent in Patuakhali, and the expenditure in the sudder sub-division was also small, although the work done is of a substantial character. The sub-divisional officer of Patuakhali explains that the people were unwilling either to apply for money, or to supervise the works. Various reasons are assigned for the small expenditure in the Sudder sub-division, such as the applicants being required to give up land free of cost, coupled with the necessity of filling in details of the work applied for, and advances were not made, payments being made for works actually done.

Nothing was done in regard to tree-planting as the birms were not in a fit state for planting.

The subordinate works establishment under the Committee, it is stated, were not as careful and as strict in their supervision as they might have been.

Explanatory Memorandum to accompany the Annual Accounts for 1879-80.

(a.) Rs. 208-15, being a refund of cess, was treated as less receipts, until the receipt of Government Resolution No. 201A, dated 26th February 1880, according to which the refund is now shown both in the credit and debit sides. Hence the increase over the figures shown in the monthly returns.

(b.) There is an increase of Rs. 779-15-1 over the figures shown in the monthly returns. Rs. 510-8-1, on account of road cess process fees, was shown in the monthly returns under the head "miscellaneous" instead of (as from January 1880 such receipts began to be shown) under that of "fees, fines, and forfeitures," Rs. 222-7 and Rs. 47 on account of refunds of copying fees and fines respectively, which were, until the receipt of the Government resolution cited above shown as less receipts, have now been shown in both sides of the annual accounts.

(c.) For the decrease of Rs. 510-8-1, see first part of explanation (b).

(d.) See explanation (a).

(e.) For the increase of Rs. 269-7, see latter part of explanation (b).

(f.) There is an increase of annas nine pie six over the figure shown in the monthly returns. This amount was erroneously shown under heading "stationery," but is now correctly shown under "contingencies of office of collection."

The expenditure Rs. 9,178-8-2 under heading "provincial rates" has apparently exceeded the budget allotment Rs. 8,440. A sum of Rs. 1,500 originally budgetted for was intended to cover the contingency as well as the stationery charges of the office of collection, but the whole amount was in Government resolution No. 401A, dated 6th May 1880, transferred to the heading "stationery," so that in reality the saving under the latter head represents the increased provision intended in the budget to meet the expenditure under provincial rates. From this point of view the expenditure is very much within the estimates.

(g.) Provision was made in the budget for payment on account of the ten annas per cent. rate. This was, however, excluded in Government resolution No 401A, dated 6th May 1880, and for it was substituted the heading "contribution to provincial Government," for which Rs. 1,474 was estimated.

(h.) There is an increase of Rs. 247-13 over the figure shown in the monthly returns. Rs. 248-6-6, on account of stationery and printing charges of the Engineering Department, which is now shown under heading "stationery," was in the monthly returns shown under heading "Establishment for Public Works," and a sum of annas nine pies six has been transferred from heading "stationery," as explained in explanation (f).

(i.) For the decrease of Rs. 248-6-6, see first part of explanation (h).

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Mymensing, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE road cess system is decidedly popular with the people generally. Including arrears of the previous year, the collections amounted to Rs. 1,55,436 against an estimated demand of Rs. 1,45,815 for 1879-80; and the balance outstanding at close of the year was Rs. 21,453, of which Rs. 3,850 have been collected during the current cess year.

With the exception of those members who live at a distance from head-quarters, the majority of the members of the District and Branch Committees attended almost all the meetings.

The reason assigned for not incurring more expenditure is that estimates were either not sanctioned, or that they were sanctioned after the close of the working season. The expenditure which was incurred is reported to have proved sufficient to keep all the main roads of the district in good repair and available for traffic In the Kishoregung, Jamalpore, and Sudder Sub-Divisions several local zemindars and talookdars offered to supplement grants for village roads out of their own pockets.

The several establishments of the Committee did their work efficiently.

(Sd.) E. B. HARRIS,
Vice-Chairman, Road Cess Committee.

N. S. ALEXANDER,
Chairman, Road Cess Committee.

No. 338R, dated Dacca, the 1st February 1881.

From—F. H. PELLEW, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Dacca Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the annual accounts and reports of the several District Road Cess Funds of this division for the cess year 1879-80, received from the Chairmen of the Road Cess Committees.

2. The reports of the Chairmen contain all the required particulars which it would be needless for me to recapitulate here. I wish therefore to make only the following remarks :—

3. I have not the materials in my office to check the correctness of the accounts submitted by the Chairmen; but I observe that in the accounts of every district there are several mistakes in the classification of the disbursements under their proper headings. I have pointed them out to the Chairmen concerned, and requested them in future to show the items under their proper heads.

4. There has been during the year a general improvement in the working of the Act in this division, especially in the districts of Backergunge and Mymensingh where satisfactory progress seems to have been made in the execution of works.

5. Attendance of members.—The attendance of members of both the District and Branch Committees in the division is generally irregular. But the members who attended appear to have taken much interest in their work.

6. Village works.—It a matter of gratification that a sufficiently large amount has been spent in all the districts towards the construction and maintenance of village works, except in the sudder sub-divisions of Dacca and Furreedpore, where comparatively small sums have been expended on that account. I have drawn the attention of the Chairmen of the Road Cess Committees of those districts to the Government orders on the subject, and requested them to pay more attention to this matter in future.

7. Planting of trees.—In Dacca and Mymensingh a certain amount has been expended on planting trees on the sides of the roads. In Furreedpore, the amount expended under this head is reported to have been included with the amounts expended in repairing the roads. I have directed the Chairman's attention to the impropriety of his procedure, and requested him to show the amount in future separately under head "Original works." In Backergunge, nothing appears to have been as yet done in this matter. The reason for this has been explained in the Committee's report hereto annexed.

8. Work on the Jessore road and the new Talma road in Furreedpore and the road from Jamalpore to Subarnakhally in Mymensingh was commenced in anticipation of sanction. The practice has been repeatedly forbidden by Government, and I have called the serious attention of the Chairmen to the subject, and directed them to stop the work at once.

9. The Chairman of the Road Cess Committee, Furreedpore, suggests the construction of main roads connecting thana Palong with its out-posts which, when executed, will afford the villagers the opportunity of joining them afterwards with their respective villages. I have approved of this suggestion, and am of opinion that some principle of this nature might be adopted in other districts also.

10. As regards the opinion expressed in the Furreedpore report, that "the strict Department Public Works precision is not required for district works," it is sufficient to say that correct alignment, proper waterway, and good workmanship are as important in district as in other works.

11. Steam communication.—As regards the steam communication referred to in the report of the Chairman, Road Cess Committee of Furreedpore, I beg to state that proposals have been made to me and are now going on between the Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company, and the Chairmen, Road Cess Committees of Furreedpore and Backergunge, for opening steam communication between those districts, and I hope they will see their way to chartering the Douglas from the company which can, Mr. Prestage informs me, be done at an expenditure of about Rs. 300 per mensem for regular communication between Burrisal and Furreedpore and thence by the Dacca main line to Goalundo.

12. It is certainly very desirable to have a road from Madaripore to Furreedpore as remarked by the Chairman, Road Cess Committee, Furreedpore, if it can be done from the funds at disposal of the Road Cess Committee.

13. In Backergunge, considerable attention has been paid to the excavation and repairs of village khalls—natural and artificial. The keeping in good order of all that will repay attention is highly desirable, but these are not very numerous. The subject is a difficult one and demands not only technical knowledge but considerable local study and experience, or money will inevitably be wasted. What has been done is, I believe, on a sound basis and likely to be lasting. I could wish to see a larger expenditure in the maintenance of tow-paths, not necessarily raised and bridged but cleared of jungle and encumbrance.

14. I regret the reports of the District Committees have not been prepared in accordance with the orders of Government, contained in its circular No. 973A, dated 14th September last. In some cases, unnecessary information has been furnished, while in others subjects required by the above circular have been omitted. I have drawn the attention of the Chairmen to the subject, and requested them to see that the reports are prepared in future strictly in accordance with the injunctions laid down in the circulars referred to above.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second publication.]

The following Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it are published for general information, by order of His Excellency the Governor General, under the 22nd of the Rules for the conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Governor General:—

No. 22 OF 1881.

A Bill to amend the law relating to Powers-of-Attorney.

FOR the purpose of amending the law relating to Powers-of-Attorney; it is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. Local extent. Commencement.

1. This Act may be called "The Powers-of-Attorney Act, 1881": it applies to the whole of British India; and it shall come into force on the first day of January, 1882.

44 & 45 Vic., c. 41, s. 46.

Execution under power-of-attorney

2. The donee of a power-of-attorney may, if he thinks fit, execute or do any assurance, instrument or thing in and with his own name and signature and his own seal, where sealing is required, by the authority of the donor of the power; and every assurance, instrument and thing so executed and done shall be as effectual in law as if it had been executed or done by the donee of the power in the name and with the signature and seal of the donor thereof.

This section applies to powers-of-attorney created by instruments executed either before or after this Act comes into force.

44 & 45 Vic., c. 41, s. 47.

Payment by attorney under power without notice of death, &c., good.

3. Any person making or doing any payment or act, in good faith, in pursuance of a power-of-attorney shall not be liable in respect of the payment or act by reason that before the payment or act the donor of the power had died or become lunatic, of unsound mind, or bankrupt, or insolvent, or had revoked the power, if the fact of death, lunacy, unsoundness of mind, bankruptcy, insolvency or revocation was not at the time of the payment or act known to the person making or doing the same.

But this section shall not affect any right against the payee of any person interested in any money so paid; and that person shall have the like remedy against the payee as he would have had against the payer if the payment had not been made by him.

This section applies only to payments and acts made or done after this Act comes into force.

44 & 45 Vic. c. 41, s. 48.

Deposit of original instruments creating powers-of-attorney.

4. (a) An instrument creating a power-of-attorney, its execution being verified by affidavit, statutory declaration or other sufficient evidence, may, with the affidavit or declaration, if any, be deposited in the High Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the instrument may be.

(b) A separate file of instruments so deposited shall be kept; and any person may search that file, and inspect every instrument so deposited; and a certified copy thereof shall be delivered out to him on request.

(c) A copy of an instrument so deposited may be presented at the office and may be stamped or marked as a certified copy, and when so stamped or marked shall become and be a certified copy.

(d) A certified copy of an instrument so deposited shall without further proof be sufficient evidence of the contents of the instrument and of the deposit thereof in the High Court.

(e) The High Court may from time to time make rules for the purposes of this section, and prescribing, with the concurrence of the Local Government, the fees to be taken under clauses (a), (b) and (c).

(f) Throughout British Burma, the Court of the Recorder of Rangoon shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be the High Court.

(g) This section applies to instruments creating powers-of-attorney executed either before or after this Act comes into force.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

As the law stands, the donee of a power-of-attorney, when executing an instrument pursuant to the power, must sign, and where sealing is required must seal, in his principal's name. The first object of this Bill is to render it legal for such donees to execute in and with their own names and seals. The law respecting the execution of instruments under powers-of-attorney will thus be made accordant with what will be the rule in England from and after the 31st December, 1881, and with what is believed to be the practice in the North-Western Provinces, British Burma and, probably, elsewhere in India. The section effecting this is copied from section 46 of the recent Statute 44 & 45 Vic., c. 41, which takes effect from the close of the present year.

The second object of the Bill is to preclude doubts as to the liability of a donee of a power-of-attorney who makes payments in good faith after the donor of the power has died or become lunatic or bankrupt or insolvent, or has revoked the power, when the fact of death, lunacy, bankruptcy, insolvency or revocation was not known to the donee at the time of making the payment. The section effecting this is copied from section 47 of the Statute above mentioned, and merely extends to all attorneys the rule as to trustees, executors and administrators making payments under powers, which has been in force in British India for the last fifteen years—see Act XXVIII of 1866, section 39.

The third and last object of the Bill is to provide for the deposit of instruments creating powers-of-attorney, and for the evidence of the contents of such instruments. The section effecting this is copied (with the modifications necessary to adapt it to India) from 44 & 45 Vic., c. 41, section 48.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First publication.]

The following Report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill as settled by them was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 6th July, 1881:—

WE, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to define and amend the law relating to Private Trusts and Trustees was referred, have the honour to report that we have considered the Bill, the portions of the report of the Indian Law Commission relating to the Bill, and the papers noted in the schedule to the present report.

2. The Government of India has no desire to bring this Bill into operation in any part of India against the wishes of the Local Government. We have therefore made the Bill to extend in the first instance only to the territories respectively administered by the Governor of Madras in Council, the Lieutenant-Governors of the North-Western Provinces and the Panjáb, and the Chief Commissioners of Oudh, the Central Provinces and Assam; and we have given power to the other Local Governments to extend it by notification to any part of the territories respectively under their administration.

3. In section 13 (as to the duty of the trustee to protect the trust-property), before the words "amount or value," we have inserted the words "nature and," inasmuch as it is obviously necessary to have regard to the nature of the property, as well as to its amount or value, in order to determine what steps are reasonably requisite for its preservation.

4. Section 20, in accordance with a suggestion of the Bombay High Court, enumerates the securities on which trustees may properly invest trust-funds. The learned Chief Justice of Bombay has pointed out that the most ordinary and popular investment, among Native trustees (at least in the Bombay mufassal), is an investment of money with the firms of shroffs or merchants of good repute to run at interest. To proscribe this form of investment, as the Bill as introduced practically does, would, in Sir M. Westropp's opinion, cause much inconvenience. Similar kinds of investment may also occur in other parts of India. We have therefore in section 20, clause (f), provided that money held in trust may be invested on any security expressly authorized by any rule which the High Court may from time to time prescribe in this behalf. The rule in clause (e) forbidding trustees (in the absence of an express authority) to advance more than one-half of the value of property consisting of freehold houses has been objected to as over-stringent by the learned Advocate General of Bengal. But, considering the sudden and rapid deterioration to which, in this country, house-property is liable, our only doubt is whether the rule in question is as stringent as it ought to be.

5. We have struck out section 22, which provided for the transfer of the trust-property to the beneficiary on the completion of the purpose of the trust, as we consider that the case is sufficiently provided for by section 55.

6. In section 23 we have set out the circumstances under which a trustee committing a breach of trust is liable to pay interest and the cases in which that interest is compound. The law on this point was left too much to be gathered from the illustrations.

7. In the second paragraph of section 27 (as to the liability of co-trustees committing a breach of trust) we have added after the words "or his legal representative" the words "to the extent of the assets he has received."

8. The provisions of section 54 which declares that "the beneficiary has a right to the rents and profits of the trust-property," appear to us to be too general. We have, therefore, limited them by making them expressly subject to the provisions of the instrument of trust.

9. We have omitted the proviso to section 55, as we consider it, in view of the provisions of the section, unnecessary; and we have amended the last clause of that section and the last clause of section 67 so as to bring them into conformity with the last clause of section 57.

10. The subject-matter of section 64 (as to the wrongful employment of trust-funds in trade) being sufficiently provided for by the additions we have made to section 23, we have struck out the former section.

11. The illustration to section 77 relates to the case of a trust inter vivos for the payment of debts; but as no provision was made for such a case in the section, we have added a clause, (c), containing the accepted law on the subject.

12. To section 81 (as to benámi transactions) we have added, at the suggestion of the learned Advocate General of Bengal, a clause saving the Code of Civil Procedure, section 317, and section 36 of Act XI of 1859.

13. We have amended the first illustration to section 82 so as to show that the section provides for the case where a trust is incapable of being executed in consequence of the beneficiary's renunciation of his interest.

14. Section 86 of the Bill as introduced provides for cases of transfer in fraud of the creditors of the transferor. This, we consider, is a matter which more properly belongs to the Transfer of Property Bill, and it is, in fact, provided for by section 53 of that Bill. We have, therefore, struck out the former section, and omitted from the schedule the statute (13 Eliz., cap. 5) dealing with such cases.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjáb has suggested that the powers conferred by the Bill on a principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction should be exercisable only by such officers as may be specially empowered in that behalf by the Local Government. We are however of opinion that the adoption of this proposal might lead to heart-burning in the case of judges not so empowered, and would certainly cause inconvenience to the public, as, without referring to the notifications in the Gazette, it would be impossible to know what Courts were, or were not, competent to exercise powers under the Act. Moreover, District Judges are now empowered, under the Indian Companies Act, 1866, to wind up companies and have also jurisdiction under the Divorce Act. As the Legislature has deemed them competent to perform these important functions, we cannot hold them incompetent to exercise the much less difficult and delicate jurisdiction conferred by the Trusts Bill. For these reasons we have not accepted His Honour's suggestion.

16. It will be seen that we have left the Bill in substance as it was settled by the Indian Law Commission. We recommend that it be passed as now amended, but it should first be republished in the Gazette of India with this report; and, in obedience to the orders of the Secretary of State, it must also be sent to him, published in the local Gazettes, and translated into the vernacular languages.

No. II.

A Bill to define and amend the law relating to Private Trusts and Trustees.

WHEREAS it is expedient to define and amend the law relating to private trusts and trustees; It is hereby enacted as follows:— Preamble.

Trusts in India of various kinds, 18 W. R. (P.C.) 359. Trusts for benefit of creditors, 1 Bom 233. 9 Bom 249. 10 Bom. 327. Trustee misapplying trust-funds, Suth. F. B. 60.

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

1. This Act may be called "The Indian Trusts Act, 1882": and it shall come into force on the first day of March, 1882. Short title. Commencement.

It extends in the first instance to the territories respectively administered by the Governor of Madras in Council, the Lieutenant-Governors of the Local extent.

North-West Provinces and the Panjáb, the Chief Commissioners of Oudh, the Central Provinces and Assam; and the Local Government may from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, extend it to any other part of British India. But nothing herein contained affects the rules of Muhammadan law as to waqf, or the mutual relations of the members of an undivided family as determined by any customary or personal law, or applies to public or private religious or charitable endowments, or to trusts to distribute prizes taken in war among the captors; and nothing in the second chapter of this Act applies to trusts created before the said day.

Savings.

As to family religious trusts, 10 Beng. 19; Morton, 11, 16. As to Mahomedan trusts, see 1 Mad. 5, 7 Mad. 7. Act XX of 1863.

2. On and from that day the Statute and Acts mentioned in the Schedule hereto annexed shall be repealed to the extent therein mentioned.

Repeal of enactments.

Property purchased in name of an idol, 15 Beng. 176.

3. A "trust" is an obligation annexed to the ownership of property, and arising out of a confidence reposed in and accepted by the owner, or declared and accepted by him, for the benefit of another, or of another and the owner:

Interpretation-clause.

"trust":

the person who reposes or declares the confidence is called the "author of the trust": the person who accepts the confidence is called the "trustee": the person for whose benefit the confidence is accepted is called the "beneficiary": the subject-matter of the trust is called "trust-property" or "trust-money": the "beneficial interest" or "interest" of the beneficiary is his right against the trustee as owner of the trust-property; and the instrument, if any, by which the trust is declared is called the "instrument of trust":

"author of the trust":

"trustee":

"beneficiary":

"trust-property":

"instrument of trust":

a breach of any duty imposed on a trustee, as such, by any law for the time being in force is called a "breach of trust":

"breach of trust":

and in this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context, "registered" means registered under the law for the registration of documents for the time being in force: a person is said to have "notice" of a fact either when he actually knows that fact or when, but for wilful abstention from inquiry or gross negligence, he would have known it, or when information of the fact is given to or obtained by his agent under the circumstances mentioned in the Indian Contract Act, 1872, section 229; and all expressions used herein and defined in the Indian Contract Act, 1872, shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them by that Act.

CHAPTER II.

OF THE CREATION OF TRUSTS.

Beng. 377: IX of 2, s. 23. 3. Reg. II 1793, s. 19, Mds Collec. to make

4. A trust may be created for any lawful purpose. The purpose of a trust is lawful unless it is (a) forbidden by law, or (b) is of such a nature that, if permitted, it would defeat the provisions of any law, or (c) is fraudulent, or (d) involves or implies injury to the person or property of another, or (e) the Court regards it as immoral or opposed to public policy.

Lawful purpose.

their subordinates their trustees. Perpetuity, 14 Beng. 175.

Every trust of which the purpose is unlawful is void. And where a trust is created for two purposes, of which one is lawful and the other unlawful, and the two purposes cannot be separated, the whole trust is void.

Explanation.—In this section, the expression "law" includes, where the trust-property is immoveable and situate in a foreign country, the law of such country.

See Nelson v. Bridport, 8 Beav. 547.

Illustrations.

(a) A conveys property to B in trust to apply the profits to the nurture of female foundlings to be trained up as prostitutes. The trust is void.

(b) A bequeathes property to B in trust for C for his life, and after his death to D for his life, and after D's death to such of the sons of D as shall first attain the age of twenty-five. A, B, C and D are persons to whom the Indian Succession Act, 1865, applies. The trust after D's death is void.

Act X of 1865, s. 101.

(c) A bequeathes property to B in trust to employ it in carrying on a smuggling business, and out of the profits thereof to support A's children. The trust is void.

(d) A, while in insolvent circumstances, transfers property to B in trust for A during his life, and after his death for B. A is declared an insolvent. The trust for A is invalid as against his creditors.

5. No trust in relation to immoveable property is valid unless declared by a non-testamentary instrument in writing signed by the author of the trust or the trustee and registered, or by the will of the author of the trust or of the trustee.

Trust of immoveable property.

No trust in relation to moveable property is valid unless declared as aforesaid, or unless the ownership of the property is transferred to the trustee.

Trust of moveable property.

These rules do not apply where they would operate so as to effectuate a fraud.

6. Subject to the provisions of section five, a trust is created when the author of the trust indicates with reasonable certainty by any words or acts (a) an intention on his part to create thereby a trust, (b) the purpose of the trust, (c) the beneficiary, and (d) the trust-property, and (unless the trust is declared by will or the author of the trust is himself to be the trustee) transfers the trust-property to the trustee.

Creation of trust.

Whether voluntary declaration of trust is binding against Hindú declarant, 4 Mad. 462. Transmutation of possession unnecessary, 2 Bom. 143 (a Parsí case).

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeathes certain property to B, "having the fullest confidence that he will dispose of it for the benefit of" C. This creates a trust so far as regards A and C.

See 7 Bom. A. C. J. 149.

(b) A bequeathes certain property to B, "hoping he will continue it in the family." This does not create a trust, as the beneficiary is not indicated with reasonable certainty.

(c) A bequeathes certain property to B, requesting him to distribute it amongst such members of C's family as B should think most deserving. This does not create a trust, for the beneficiaries are not indicated with reasonable certainty.

(d) A bequeathes certain property to B, desiring him to divide the bulk of it among C's children. This does not create a trust, for the trust-property is not indicated with sufficient certainty.

(e) A bequeathes a shop and stock-in-trade to B, on condition that he pays A's debts and a legacy to C. This is a condition, not a trust for A's creditors and C.

Who may create trusts.

7. A trust may be created—

Cf. Act IX of 1872, ss. 11 & 12.

(a) by every person competent to contract, and

(b) with the permission of a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction, by or on behalf a minor; but subject in each case to the law for the time being in force as to the circumstances and extent in and to which the author of the trust may dispose of the trust-property.

Subject of trust.

8. The subject-matter of a trust must be property transferable to the beneficiary.

It must not be a merely beneficial interest under a subsisting trust.

Who may be beneficiary.

9. Every person capable of holding property may be a beneficiary.

Disclaimer by beneficiary.

A proposed beneficiary may renounce his interest under the trust by disclaimer addressed to the trustee, or by setting up, with notice of the trust, a claim inconsistent therewith.

Act IX of 1872, s. 11.

Who may be trustee.

10. Every person capable of holding property may be a trustee; but where the trust involves the exercise of discretion, he cannot execute it unless he is competent to contract.

No one bound to accept trust.

No one is bound to accept a trust.

Acceptance of trust.

A trust is accepted by any words or acts of the trustee indicating with reasonable certainty such acceptance.

Disclaimer of trust.

Instead of accepting a trust, the intended trustee may, within a reasonable period, disclaim it, and such disclaimer shall prevent the trust-property from vesting in him.

A disclaimer by one of two or more co-trustees vests the trust-property in the other or others and makes him or them sole trustee or trustees from the date of the creation of the trust.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeathes certain property to B and C, his executors, as trustees for D. B and C prove A's will. This is in itself an acceptance of the trust, and B and C hold the property in trust for D.

(b) A transfers certain property to B in trust to sell it and to pay out of the proceeds A's debts. B accepts the trust and sells the property. So far as regards B, a trust of the proceeds is created for A's creditors.

(c) A bequeathes a lákh of rupees to B upon certain trusts and appoints him his executor. B severs the lákh from the general assets and appropriates it to the specific purpose. This is an acceptance of the trust.

CHAPTER III.

OF THE DUTIES AND LIABILITIES OF TRUSTEES.

Trustee to execute trust.

11. The trustee is bound to fulfil the purpose of the trust, and to obey the directions of the author of the trust given at the time of its creation, except as modified by the consent of all the beneficiaries being competent to contract.

Where the beneficiary is incompetent to contract, his consent may, for the purposes of this section, be given by a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to require a trustee to obey any direction when to do so would be impracticable, illegal or manifestly injurious to the beneficiaries.

Explanation.—Unless a contrary intention be expressed, the purpose of a trust for the payment of debts shall be deemed to be (a) to pay only the debts of the author of the trust existing and recoverable at the date of the instrument of trust, or, when such instrument is a will, at the date of his death, and (b) in the case of debts not bearing interest, to make such payment without interest.

Illustrations.

(a) A, a trustee, is simply authorized to sell certain land by public auction. He cannot sell the land by private contract.

(b) A, a trustee of certain land for X, Y and Z, is authorized to sell the land to B for a specified sum. X, Y and Z, being competent to contract, consent that A may sell the land to C for a less sum. A may sell the land accordingly.

(c) A, a trustee for B and her children, is directed by the author of the trust to lend, on B's request, trust-property to B's husband, C, on the security of his bond. C becomes insolvent, and B requests A to make the loan. A may refuse to make it.

Trustee to inform himself of state of trust-property.

12. A trustee is bound to acquaint himself, as soon as possible, with the nature and circumstances of the trust-property; to obtain where necessary, a transfer of the trust-property to himself; and (subject to the provisions of the instrument of trust) to get in trust-moneys invested on insufficient or hazardous security.

Illustrations.

(a) The trust-property is a debt outstanding on personal security. The instrument of trust gives the trustee no discretionary power to leave the debt so outstanding. The trustee's duty is to recover the debt without unnecessary delay. 4 Mad. 452.

(b) The trust-property is money in the hands of one of two co-trustees. No discretionary power is given by the instrument of trust. The other co-trustee must not allow the former to retain the money for a longer period than the circumstances of the case require. Bai Jadav Tribhuvand 9 Bom 333

Trustee to protect title to trust-property.

13. A trustee is bound to maintain and defend all such suits, and (subject to the provisions of the instrument of trust) to take such other steps as, regard being had to the nature and amount or value of the trust-property, may be reasonably requisite for the preservation of the trust-property and the assertion or protection of the title thereto. Act I of 18[illegible] s. 10, expl. [illegible]

Illustration.

The trust-property is immoveable property which has been given to the author of the trust by an unregistered instrument. Subject to the provisions of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, the trustee's duty is to cause the instrument to be registered.

Trustee not to set-up title adverse to beneficiary.

14. The trustee must not for himself or another set-up or aid any title to the trust-property adverse to the interest of the beneficiary.

Care required from trustee.

15. A trustee is bound to deal with the trust-property as carefully as a man of ordinary prudence would deal with such property if it were his own; and, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, a trustee so dealing is not responsible for the loss, destruction or deterioration of the trust-property. Act IX of 1872, ss. [illegible] 152.

Illustrations.

(a) A, living in Calcutta, is a trustee for B, living in Bombay. A remits trust-funds to B by bills drawn by a person of undoubted credit in favour of the trustee as such, and payable at Bombay. The bills are dishonoured. A is not bound to make good the loss.

(b) A, a trustee of leasehold property, directs the tenant to pay the rents on account of the trust to a banker, B, then in credit. The rents are accordingly paid to B, and A leaves the money with B only till wanted. Before the money is drawn out, B becomes insolvent. A, having had no reason to believe that B was in insolvent circumstances, is not bound to make good the loss.

(c) A, a trustee of two debts for B, releases one and compounds the other, in good faith, and reasonably believing that it is for B's interest to do so. A is not bound to make good any loss caused thereby to B.

(d) A, a trustee directed to sell the trust-property by auction, sells the same, but does not advertise the sale and otherwise fails in reasonable diligence in inviting competition. A is bound to make good the loss caused thereby to the beneficiary.

(e) A, a trustee for B, in execution of his trust, sells the trust-property, but from want of due diligence on his part fails to receive part of the purchase-money. A is bound to make good the loss thereby caused to B.

(f) A, a trustee for B of a policy of insurance, has funds in hand for payment of the premiums. A neglects to pay the premiums, and the policy is consequently forfeited. A is bound to make good the loss to B.

(g) A bequeathes certain monies to B and C as trustees and authorizes them to continue trust-moneys upon the personal security of a certain firm in which A had himself invested them. A dies, and a change takes place in the firm. B and C must not permit the monies to remain upon the personal security of the new firm.

(h) A, a trustee for B, allows the trust to be executed solely by his co-trustee, C. C misapplies the trust-property. A is personally answerable for the loss resulting to B.

16. Where the trust is created for the benefit of several persons in succession, and the trust-property is of a wasting nature or a future or reversionary interest, the trustee is bound, unless an intention to the contrary may be inferred from the instrument of trust, to convert the property into property of a permanent and immediately profitable character.

Conversion of perishable property.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeathes to B all his property in trust for C during his life, and on his death for D, and on D's death for E. A's property consists of three leasehold houses, and there is nothing in A's will to show that he intended the houses to be enjoyed in specie. B should sell the houses, and invest the proceeds in accordance with section twenty.

(b) A bequeathes to B his three leasehold houses in Calcutta and all the furniture therein in trust for C during his life, and on his death for D, and on D's death for E. Here an intention that the houses and furniture should be enjoyed in specie appears clearly, and B should not sell them.

17. Where there are more beneficiaries than one, the trustee is bound to be impartial, and must not execute the trust for the advantage of one at the expense of another.

Trustee to be impartial.

Where the trustee has a discretionary power, nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorize the Court to control the exercise reasonably and in good faith of such discretion.

Illustration.

A, a trustee for B, C and D, is empowered to choose between several specified modes of investing the trust-property A in good faith chooses one of these modes. The Court will not interfere, although the result of the choice may be to vary the relative rights of B, C and D.

18. Where the trust is created for the benefit of several persons in succession and one of them is in possession of the trust-property, if he commits, or threatens to commit, any act which is destructive or permanently injurious thereto, the trustee is bound to take measures to prevent such act.

Trustee to prevent waste.

19. A trustee is bound (a) to keep clear and accurate accounts of the trust-property, and (b), at all reasonable times, at the request of the beneficiary, to furnish him with full and accurate information as to the amount and state of the trust-property.

Accounts and information.

20. Where the trust-property consists of money and cannot be applied immediately or at an early date to the purposes of the trust, the trustee is bound (subject to any direction contained in the instrument of trust) to invest the money on the following securities, and on no others :—

Investment of trust-money.

Act XXVIII of 1866, ss. 5 and 32.

As to the necessity of some such provisions, see DeSouza v. DeSouza, 12 Bom 184.

(a) in promissory notes, debentures, stock or other securities of the Government of India, or of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland;

Cf. 23 & 24 Vic., c. 145, s. 25.

(b) in bonds, debentures and annuities charged by the Imperial Parliament on the revenues of India;

(c) in stock or debentures of, or shares in, Railway or other Companies the interest whereon shall have been guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council;

Cf. 32 & 33 Vic., c. 132, s. 2.

(d) in debentures or other securities for money issued by, or on behalf of, any municipal body under the authority of any Act of a legislature established in British India;

Cf. 34 & 35 Vic., c. 47, s. 13.

(e) on a first mortgage of immoveable property situate in British India: Provided that the property is not a leasehold for a term of years and that the value of the property exceeds by one-third, or, if consisting of buildings, exceeds by one-half, the mortgage-money; or

(f) on any other security expressly authorized by the instrument of trust, or by any rule which the High Court may from time to time prescribe in this behalf.

Provided that, where there is a person competent to contract and entitled in possession to receive the income of the trust-property for his life, or for any greater estate, no investment on any security mentioned or referred to in clauses (d), (e) and (f) shall be made without his consent in writing.

The Statute excepts investment on Consols.

21. Nothing in section twenty shall apply to investments made before this Act comes into force, or shall be deemed to preclude an investment on a mortgage of immoveable property already pledged as security for an advance under the Land Improvement Act, 1871, or, in case the trust-money does not exceed three thousand rupees, a deposit thereof in a Government Savings Bank.

Mortgage of land pledged to Government under Act XXVI of 1871.

Deposit in Government Savings Bank.

27 & 28 Vic., c. 114, s. 61.

22. Where a trustee directed to sell within a specified time extends such time, the burden of proving, as between himself and the beneficiary, that the latter is not prejudiced by the extension lies upon the trustee, unless the extension has been authorized by a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction.

Sale by trustee directed to sell within specified time.

Illustration.

A bequeathes property to B, directing him with all convenient speed and within five years to sell it, and apply the proceeds for the benefit of C. In the exercise of reasonable discretion, B postpones the sale for six years. The sale is not thereby rendered invalid, but C, alleging that he has been injured by the postponement, institutes a suit against B to obtain compensation. In such suit the burden of proving that C has not been injured lies on B.

Liability for breach of trust.

23. Where the trustee commits a breach of trust, he is liable to make good the loss which the trust-property or the beneficiary has thereby sustained, unless the beneficiary has by fraud induced the trustee to commit the breach, or the beneficiary being competent to contract, has himself, without coercion or undue influence having been brought to bear on him, concurred in the breach, or subsequently acquiesced therein, with full knowledge of the facts of the case and of his rights as against the trustee.

A trustee committing a breach of trust is not liable to pay interest except in the following cases:—

(a) where he has actually received interest:

(b) where the breach consists in unreasonable delay in paying trust-money to the beneficiary:

(c) where the trustee ought to have received interest, but has not done so:

(d) where he may be fairly presumed to have received interest.

He is liable in case (a) to account for the interest actually received, and, in cases (b), (c) and (d), to account for simple interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, unless the Court otherwise directs.

(e) Where the breach consists in failure to invest trust-money and to accumulate the interest or dividends thereon, he is liable to account for compound interest (with half-yearly rests) at the same rate.

(f) Where the breach consists in the employment of trust-property or the proceeds thereof in trade or business, he is liable to account, at the option of the beneficiary, either for compound interest (with half-yearly rests) at the same rate, or for the net profits made by such employment.

Illustrations.

(a) A trustee improperly leaves trust-property outstanding, and it is consequently lost: he is liable to make good the property lost, but he is not liable to pay interest thereon.

(b) A bequeathes a house to B in trust to sell it and pay the proceeds to C. B neglects to sell the house for a great length of time, whereby the house is deteriorated and its market price falls. B is answerable to C for the loss.

(c) A trustee is guilty of unreasonable delay in investing trust-money in accordance with section twenty, or in paying it to the beneficiary. The trustee is liable to pay interest thereon for the period of the delay.

(d) The duty of the trustee is to invest trust-money in any of the securities mentioned in section twenty, clause (a), (b), (c) or (d). Instead of so doing, he retains the money in his hands. He is liable, at the option of the beneficiary, to be charged either with the amount of the principal money and interest, or with the amount of such securities which he might have purchased with the trust-money when the investment should have been made, and the intermediate dividends and interest thereon.

(e) The instrument of trust directs the trustee to invest trust-money either in any of such securities or on mortgage of immoveable property. The trustee does neither. He is liable for the principal money and interest.

(f) The instrument of trust directs the trustee to invest trust-money in any of such securities and to accumulate the dividends thereon. The trustee disregards the direction. He is liable, at the option of the beneficiary, to be charged either with the amount of the principal money and compound interest, or with the amount of such securities which he might have purchased with the trust-money when the investment should have been made, together with the amount of the accumulation which would have arisen from a proper investment of the intermediate dividends.

(g) Trust-property is invested in one of the securities mentioned in section twenty, clause (a) (b), (c) or (d). The trustee sells such security for some purpose not authorized by the terms of the instrument of trust. He is liable, at the option of the beneficiary, either to replace the security with the intermediate dividends and interest thereon, or to account for the proceeds of the sale with interest thereon.

(h) The trust-property consists of land. The trustee sells the land to a purchaser for a consideration without notice of the trust. The trustee is liable, at the option of the beneficiary, to purchase other land of equal value to be settled upon the like trust, or to be charged with the proceeds of the sale with interest.

No set-off allowed to trustee.

24. A trustee who is liable for a loss occasioned by a breach of trust in respect of one portion of the trust-property cannot set off against his liability a gain which has accrued to another portion of the trust-property through another and distinct breach of trust.

Non-liability for predecessor's default.

25. Where a trustee succeeds another, he is not, as such, liable for the acts or defaults of his predecessor.

Non-liability for co-trustee's default.

26. Subject to the provisions of sections thirteen and fifteen, one trustee is not, as such, liable for a breach of trust committed by his co-trustee:

Provided that, in the absence of an express declaration to the contrary in the instrument of trust, a trustee is so liable—

(a) where he has delivered trust-property to his co-trustee without seeing to its proper application: Act I of 1877, s. 54, ill. (b).

(b) where he allows his co-trustee to receive trust-property and fails to make due enquiry as to the co-trustee's dealings therewith, or allows him to retain it longer than the circumstances of the case reasonably require:

(c) where he becomes aware of a breach of trust committed or intended by his co-trustee, and either actively conceals it or does not within a reasonable time take proper steps to protect the beneficiary's interest.

Joining in receipt for conformity.

A co-trustee who joins in signing a receipt for trust-property and proves that he has not received the same is not answerable, by reason of such signature only, for loss or misapplication of the property by his co-trustee.

Illustration.

A bequeathes certain property to B and C, and directs them to sell it and invest the proceeds for the benefit of D. B and C accordingly sell the property, and the purchase-money is received by B and retained in his hands. C pays no attention to the matter for two years and then calls on B to make the investment. B is unable to do so, becomes insolvent, and the purchase-money is lost. C may be compelled to make good the amount.

Several liability of co-trustees.

27. Where co-trustees jointly commit a breach of trust, or where one of them by his neglect enables the other to commit a breach of trust, each is liable to the beneficiary for the whole of the loss occasioned by such breach.

Contribution as between co-trustees.

But as between the trustees themselves, if one be less guilty than another and has had to refund the loss, the former may compel the latter, or his legal representative to the extent of the assets he has received, to make good such loss; and if all be equally guilty, any one or more of the trustees who has had to refund the loss may compel the others to contribute.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorize a trustee who has been guilty of fraud to institute a suit to compel contribution.

Non-liability of trustee paying without notice of transfer by beneficiary.

28. When any beneficiary's interest becomes vested in another person, and the trustee, not having notice of the vesting, pays or delivers trust-property to the person who would have been entitled thereto in the absence of such vesting, the trustee is not liable for the property so paid or delivered.

Liability of trustee where beneficiary's interest is forfeited to Government.

29. When the beneficiary's interest is forfeited or awarded by legal adjudication to Government, the trustee is bound to hold the trust-property to the extent of such interest for the benefit of such person in such manner as the Government may direct in this behalf.

XXVIII 1866, s. 37, ...tioned. ...sections ...26 supra.

Indemnity of trustees.

30. Subject to the provisions of the instrument of trust and of sections twenty-three and twenty-six, trustees shall be respectively chargeable only for such moneys, stocks, funds and securities as they respectively actually receive, and shall not be answerable the one for the other of them, nor for any banker, broker or other person in whose hands any trust-property may be placed, nor for the insufficiency or deficiency of any stocks, funds or securities, nor otherwise for involuntary losses.

CHAPTER IV.

OF THE RIGHTS AND POWERS OF TRUSTEES.

Right to title-deeds.

31. A trustee is entitled to have in his possession the instrument of trust and all the documents of title (if any) relating solely to the trust-property.

Right to reimbursement of expenses.

32. Every trustee may reimburse himself, or pay or discharge out of the trust-property, all expenses properly incurred in or about the execution of the trust, or the realization, preservation or benefit of the trust-property, or the protection or support of the beneficiary.

If he pays such expenses out of his own pocket he has a first charge upon the trust-property for such expenses and interest thereon; but such charge (unless the expenses have been incurred with the sanction of a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction) shall be enforced only by prohibiting any disposition of the trust-property without previous payment of such expenses and interest.

If the trust-property fail, the trustee is entitled to recover from the beneficiary personally on whose behalf he acted, and at whose request, expressed or implied, he made the payment, the amount of such expenses.

Right to be recouped for erroneous overpayment.

Where a trustee has by mistake made an overpayment to the beneficiary, he may reimburse the trust-property out of the beneficiary's interest. If such interest fail, the trustee is entitled to recover from the beneficiary personally the amount of such over-payment.

Right to indemnity from gainer by breach of trust.

33. A person other than a trustee who has gained an advantage from a breach of trust must indemnify the trustee to the extent of the amount actually received by such person under the breach; and where he is a beneficiary the trustee has a charge on his interest for such amount.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to entitle a trustee to be indemnified who has, in committing the breach of trust, been guilty of fraud.

Act XXVIII of 1866, s. 43.

Right to apply to Court for opinion in management of trust-property.

34. Any trustee may, without instituting a suit, apply by petition to a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction for its opinion, advice or direction on any present questions respecting the management or administration of the trust-property other than questions of detail, difficulty or importance, not proper for summary disposal.

A copy of such petition shall be served upon, and the hearing thereof may be attended by, such of the persons interested in the application as the Court thinks fit.

The trustee stating in good faith the facts in such petition and acting upon the opinion, advice or direction given by the Court shall be deemed, so far as regards his own responsibility, to have discharged his duty as such trustee in the subject-matter of the application.

The costs of every application under this section shall be in the discretion of the Court to which it is made.

Right to settlement of accounts.

35. When the duties of a trustee, as such, are completed, he is entitled to have the accounts of his administration of the trust-property examined and settled; and where nothing is due to the beneficiary under the trust, to an acknowledgment in writing to that effect.

In addition to the powers expressly conferred by this Act and by the instrument of trust, and subject to the restrictions, if any, contained in such instrument, and to the provisions of section seventeen, a trustee may do all acts which are reasonable and proper for the realization, protection or benefit of the trust-property, and for the protection or support of a beneficiary who is not competent to contract.

27 & 28 Vic., c. 114.

Every trustee in the actual possession or receipt of the rents and profits of land as defined in the Land Improvement Act, 1871, shall, for the purposes of that Act, be deemed to be a landlord in possession.

Power to buy-in and re-sell.

Where a trustee is directed to sell trust-property or to invest trust-money in the purchase of property, he may exercise a reasonable discretion as to the time of effecting the sale or purchase.

Time allowed for selling trust-property.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeathes property to B, directing him to sell it with all convenient speed and pay the proceeds to C. This does not render an immediate sale imperative.

(b) A bequeathes property to B, directing him to sell it at such time and in such manner as he shall think fit and invest the proceeds for the benefit of C. This does not authorize B, as between him and C, to postpone the sale to an indefinite period.

Act XXVIII of 1866, s. 4.

39. For the purpose of completing any such sale, the trustee shall have power to convey or otherwise dispose of the property sold in such manner as may be necessary.

Act XXVIII of 1866, s. 33.

41. Power to apply property of minors, &c., for their maintenance, &c.

Where the income of the trust-property is insufficient for the minor's maintenance or education or advancement in life, or the reasonable expenses of his marriage or funeral, the trustee may, with the permission of a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction, but not otherwise, apply the whole or any part of such property for or towards such maintenance, education, advancement or expenses.

See Acts XL of 1858, XX of 1864 and XIII of 1874.

A trustee may give a receipt in writing for any money paid or property transferred to him by reason or in the exercise of any trust reposed in him, and, in the absence of fraud, such receipt shall discharge the person paying or transferring the same therefrom, and from seeing to the application thereof or being accountable for any loss or misapplication thereof.

Power to give receipts.

43. When an authority to deal with the trust-property is given to several trustees and one of them disclaims or dies, the authority may be exercised by the continuing trustees, unless from the terms of the instrument of trust it is apparent that the authority is to be exercised by a number in excess of the number of the remaining trustees.

Power to several trustees of whom one disclaims or dies.

44. Where a decree has been made in a suit for the execution of a trust, the trustee must not exercise any of his powers except in conformity with such decree, or with the sanction of the Court by which the decree has been made, or, where an appeal against the decree is pending, of the Appellate Court.

Suspension of trustee's powers by decree.

CHAPTER V.

Trustee cannot renounce after acceptance.

46. A trustee cannot delegate his office or any of his duties either to a co-trustee or to a stranger, unless (a) the instrument of trust so provides, or (b) the delegation is in the regular course of business, or (c) the delegation is necessary, or (d) the beneficiary, being competent to contract, consents to the delegation.

3 Cals.

Trustee cannot delegate.

Explanation.—The appointment of an attorney or proxy to do an act merely ministerial and involving no independent discretion is not a delegation within the meaning of this section.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeathes certain property to B and C on certain trusts to be executed by them or the survivor of them or the assigns of such survivor. B dies. C may bequeath the trust-property to D and E upon the trusts of A's will.

(b) A is a trustee of certain property with power to sell the same. A may employ an auctioneer to effect the sale.

(c) A bequeathes to B fifty houses let at monthly rents in trust to collect the rents and pay them to C. B may employ a proper person to collect these rents.

47. When there are more trustees than one, all must join in the execution of the trust, except where the instrument of trust otherwise provides.

Co-trustees cannot act singly.

48. Where a discretionary power conferred on a trustee is not exercised reasonably and in good faith, such power may be controlled by a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction.

Control of discretionary power.

6 Beng. 278.

Trustee may not charge for services.

49. In the absence of express directions to the contrary contained in the instrument of trust or of a contract to the contrary entered into with the beneficiary or the Court at the time of accepting the trust, a trustee has no right to remuneration for his trouble, skill and loss of time in executing the trust.

As to them, see Acts XVII of 1864, II of 1874, XX of 1858, and XX of 1864.

and where there is only one beneficiary and he is competent to contract, or where there are several beneficiaries and they are competent to contract and all of one mind, he or they may require the trustee to transfer the trust-property to him or them, or to such person as he or they may direct.

When property has been transferred or bequeathed for the benefit of a married woman, so that she shall not have power to deprive herself of her beneficial interest, nothing in the second clause of this section applies to such property during her marriage.

Illustrations.

(a) Certain Government securities are given to trustees upon trust to accumulate the interest until A attains the age of 24, and then to transfer the gross amount to him. A on attaining majority may, as the person exclusively interested in the trust-property, require the trustees to transfer it immediately to him.

(b) A bequeathes Rs. 10,000 to trustees upon trust to purchase an annuity for B, who has attained his majority and is otherwise competent to contract. B may claim the Rs. 10,000.

(c) A transfers certain property to B and directs him to sell or invest it for the benefit of C, who is competent to contract. C may elect to take the property in its original character.

Right to inspect and take copies of instrument of trust, accounts, &c.

56. The beneficiary has a right as against the trustee and all persons claiming under him with notice of the trust to inspect and take copies of the instrument of trust, the documents of title relating solely to the trust-property, the accounts of the trust-property and the vouchers (if any) by which they are supported, and the cases submitted and opinions taken by the trustee for his guidance in the discharge of his duty.

Right to transfer beneficial interest.

57. The beneficiary, if competent to contract, may transfer his interest, but subject to the law for the time being in force as to the circumstances and extent in and to which he may dispose of such interest:

Provided that when property is transferred or bequeathed for the benefit of a married woman, so that she shall not have power to deprive herself of her beneficial interest, nothing in this section shall authorize her to transfer such interest during her marriage.

Right to sue for execution of trust.

58. Where no trustees are appointed or all the trustees die, disclaim or are discharged, or where for any other reason the execution of a trust by the trustee is or becomes impracticable, the beneficiary may institute a suit for the execution of the trust, and the trust shall, so far as may be possible, be executed by the Court until the appointment of a trustee or new trustee.

Right to proper trustees.

59. The beneficiary has a right (subject to the provisions of the instrument of trust) that the trust-property shall be properly protected and held and administered by proper persons and by a proper number of such persons.

Explanation I.—The following are not proper persons within the meaning of this section:—

A person domiciled abroad: an alien enemy: a person having an interest inconsistent with that of the beneficiary: a person in insolvent circumstances; and, unless the personal law of the beneficiary allows otherwise, a married woman and a minor.

Explanation II.—When the administration of the trust involves the receipt and custody of money, the number of trustees should be two at least.

Illustrations.

(a) A, one of several beneficiaries, proves that B, the trustee, has improperly disposed of part of the trust-property, or that the property is in danger from B's being in insolvent circumstances, or that he is incapacitated from acting as trustee. A may obtain a receiver of the trust-property.

(b) A bequeathes certain jewels to B in trust for C. B dies during A's lifetime; then A dies. C is entitled to have the property conveyed to a trustee for him.

(c) A conveys certain property to four trustees in trust for B. Three of the trustees die. B may institute a suit to have three new trustees appointed in the place of the deceased trustees.

(d) A conveys certain property to three trustees in trust for B. All the trustees disclaim. B may institute a suit to have three trustees appointed in place of the trustees so disclaiming.

(e) A, a trustee for B, refuses to act, or goes to reside permanently out of British India, or is declared an insolvent or compounds with his creditors, or suffers a co-trustee to commit a breach of trust. B may institute a suit to have A removed and a new trustee appointed in his room.

Act I of 1877, s. 54.

60. The beneficiary has a right that his trustee shall be compelled to perform any particular act of his duty as such, and restrained from committing any contemplated or probable breach of trust.

Right to compel to any act of duty.

Illustrations.

(a) A contracts with B to pay him monthly Rs. 100 for the benefit of C. B writes and signs a letter declaring that he will hold in trust for C the money so to be paid. A fails to pay the money in accordance with his contract. C may compel B on a proper indemnity to allow C to sue on the contract in B's name.

Act I of 1877, s. 54, ill. (f).

(b) A is trustee of certain land, with a power to sell the same and pay the proceeds to B and C equally. A is about to make an improvident sale of the land. B may sue on behalf of himself and C for an injunction to restrain A from making the sale.

61. Where a trustee has wrongfully bought trust-property, the beneficiary has a right to have the property declared subject to the trust or retransferred by the trustee, if it remains in his hands unsold, or, if it has been bought from him by any person with notice of the trust, by such person. But in such case the beneficiary must repay the purchase-money paid by the trustee, with interest, and such other expenses (if any) as he has properly incurred in the preservation of the property; and the trustee or purchaser must (a) account for the net profits of the property, (b) be charged with an occupation-rent, if he has been in actual possession of the property, and (c) allow the beneficiary to deduct a proportionate part of the purchase-money if the property has been deteriorated by the acts or omissions of the trustee or purchaser.

Wrongful purchase by trustee.

Nothing in this section—

(a) impairs the rights of lessees and others who, before the institution of a suit to have the property declared subject to the trust or retransferred, have contracted in good faith with the trustee or purchaser; or

(b) entitles the beneficiary to have the property declared subject to the trust or retransferred where he, being competent to contract, has himself, without coercion or undue influence having been brought to bear on him, ratified the sale to the trustee with full knowledge of the facts of the case and of his rights as against the trustee.

6 Bom. O. C. J. 59: I. L. R. 1 Bom. 237.

62. Where trust property comes into the hands of a third person inconsistently with the trust, the beneficiary may require him to admit formally, or may institute a suit for a declaration, that the property is comprised in the trust.

Following trust-property into the hands of third persons;

Where the trustee has disposed of trust-property and the money or other property which he has received therefor, can be traced in his hands, or the hands of his legal representative or legatee, the beneficiary has, in respect thereof, rights as nearly as may be the same as his rights in respect of the original trust-property.

into that into which it has been converted.

Illustrations.

(a) A, a trustee for B of Rs. 10,000, wrongfully invests the Rs. 10,000 in the purchase of certain land. B is entitled to the land.

(b) A, a trustee, wrongfully purchases land in his own name, partly with his own money, partly with money subject to a trust for B. B is entitled to a charge on the land for the amount of the trust-money so misemployed.

63. Nothing in section sixty-two entitles the beneficiary to any right in respect of property in the hands of—

As to moveables, see Act IX of 1872, s. 108.

Saving of rights of certain transferees.

(a) a transferee in good faith for consideration without having notice of the trust, either when the purchase-money was paid, or when the conveyance was executed, or—

5 W. R. 120; W. R. 1864, p. 225.

(b) a transferee for consideration from such a transferee.

A judgment-creditor of the trustee attaching and purchasing trust-property is not a transferee for consideration within the meaning of this section.

Nothing in section sixty-two applies to money, currency notes and negotiable instruments in the hands of a bonâ fide holder to whom they have passed in circulation, or shall be deemed to affect the Indian Contract Act, 1872, section 108, or the liability of a person to whom a debt or charge is transferred.

64. Where a trustee wrongfully sells or otherwise transfers trust-property and afterwards himself becomes the owner of the property, the property again becomes subject to the trust, notwithstanding any want of notice on the part of intervening transferees in good faith for consideration.

Acquisition by trustee of trust-property wrongfully converted.

Cf. Contract Act, s. 167.

65. Where the trustee wrongfully mingles the trust-property with his own, the beneficiary is entitled to a charge on the whole fund for the amount due to him.

Right in case of blended property.

66. If a partner, being a trustee, wrongfully employs trust-property in the business or on the account of the partnership, no other partner is liable therefor in his personal capacity to the beneficiaries, unless he had notice of the breach of trust.

Wrongful employment by partner trustee of trust-property for partnership purposes.

The partners having such notice are jointly and severally liable for the breach of trust.

Illustrations.

(a) A and B are partners. A dies, having bequeathed all his property to B in trust for Z, and appointed B his sole executor. B, instead of winding-up the affairs of the partnership, retains all the assets in the business. Z may compel him, as partner, to account for so much of the profits as are derived from A's share of the capital. B is also answerable to Z for the improper employment of A's assets.

(b) A, a trader, bequeaths his property to B in trust for C, appoints B his sole executor, and dies. B enters into partnership with X and Y in the same trade, and employs A's assets in the partnership-business. B gives an indemnity to X and Y against the claims of C. Here X and Y are jointly liable with B to C as having knowingly become parties to the breach of trust committed by B.

67. Where one of several beneficiaries—

Liability of beneficiary joining in breach of trust.

(a) joins in committing breach of trust, or

(b) knowingly obtains any advantage therefrom, without the consent of the other beneficiaries, or

(c) becomes aware of a breach of trust committed or intended to be committed, and either actually conceals it, or does not within a reasonable time take proper steps to protect the interests of the other beneficiaries, or

(d) has deceived the trustee and thereby induced him to commit a breach of trust, the other beneficiaries are entitled to have all his beneficial interest impounded as against him and all who claim under him (otherwise than as transferees for consideration without notice of the breach) until the loss caused by the breach has been compensated.

When property has been transferred or bequeathed for the benefit of a married woman, so that she shall not have power to deprive herself of her beneficial interest, nothing in this section applies to such property during her marriage.

68. Every person to whom a beneficiary transfers his interest has the rights, and is subject to the liabilities, of the beneficiary in respect of such interest at the date of the transfer.

Rights and liabilities of beneficiary's transferee.
